Superintendent's Message Chuck Hughes, Superintendent

@hartlandschools

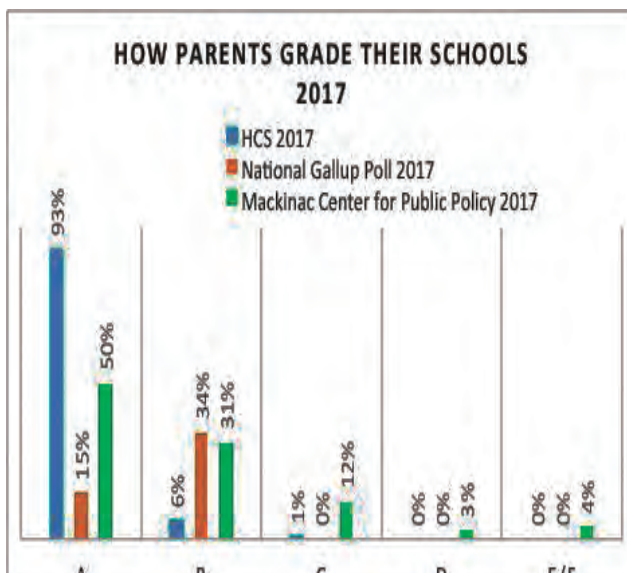

Welcome to the new year! There are many exciting developments district staff are currently working on. One development that may impact the school community going into the 2018-19 school year is starting school prior to Labor Day. There has been much discussion across the state regarding this calendar change. Livingston County schools are moving to a pre-Labor Day start, which will necessitate a change in Hartland to ensure that our students do not miss out on educational opportunities. The district is planning to start school on August 28, 2018. This will require a Labor Day Holiday on Friday August 31, 2018 and Monday, September 3, 2018. In 2019-20, school will start a week earlier. The rationale for an early start to the school year is as follows:

- An earlier calendar start will greatly enhance instructional time prior to students sitting for the state assessments and college entrance exams in the spring.
- In 2019-20 students will finish first semester before the Holiday Break, starting the new semester when they return.
- The calendar would align with program enhancements across the county, including college and career technical education programs in which high school students are involved.
- The school year would end during the last week of May or the first week of June if we do not have to make up severe weather days.

Did you know that the Hartland community is continuing to connect our past to how we work now and in the future? The Hartland Area Project envisioned by J. Robert Crouse in 1931 continues with the "Partners for Progress" collaborative. Partners for Progress builds on the idea that the Hartland community is one that embraces a collaborative culture. Hartland Schools, Cromaine Library, Hartland Township, and the Hartland Area Chamber of Commerce meet regularly in an effort to ensure that collaboration is embraced as we share what people gain when they choose to live in the Hartland area.

Each year, during parent teacher conferences, the district surveys parents about their perceptions of how we are doing. This year, parents again rated the schools very well. The data below shares how our parents rate their schools compared to how parents across Michigan and the nation rate their schools.

The Mackinac Center for Public Policy surveys Michigan residents while, the National Gallup Poll surveys parents across the nation. Thank you for recognizing all of the work that goes into providing a well-balanced education for all students.

Hartland Schools Person of the Month

Sue Silver

In the fall of 2003, Steve Assenmacher asked if I would like to come to Hartland's Alternative Education program (aka Genesis/LEGACY) a couple of days per week as Assistant Student Coordinator in the Career Center. This ended up being a full time position as Student Coordinator. Having known and worked with Steve over the years at the county Level, I was happy to join his team and have been implementing and coordinating programs and working with Hartland's at-risk students ever since.

I am originally from Fowlerville and graduated from Fowlerville. I moved to Howell in 1982. I began working for Fowlerville Community Schools in 1973 and retired in 2003. I have two children (son & daughter), 2 granddaughters, and was surprised in January 2017 with the blessing of a grandson – after 14 years a new "little one" arrives on the scene!

Through my 40+ years in the work force, I have not only worked with students and employers but also on the business side of education. I retired from Fowlerville Community Schools after 30 years. While in Fowlerville, I wrote, submitted, implemented, and managed State, Federal, and private grants that resulted in hundreds of thousands of dollars for the school district.

This funding aided the at-risk student population in making career choices and prepared students for life after high school. I have worked with various Department of Labor programs both at Fowlerville Schools and Hartland, providing services for "Younger Youth", funded through the Federal Work Force Development Program/Workforce Investment Opportunity Act. We strive to give our at-risk students the services they need to be successful upon completion of high school.

I have been very fortunate over the years to have excellent educators, mentors, and lead administrators supporting me and our program. Having a great career center staff that wants the best for students to help them succeed not only while enrolled in school but after they leave us.

I believe that the Hartland Consolidated Schools is an excellent school district and I am so glad to be a part of a team that cares, educates, and provide service for the betterment of all students.

School Bus Safety Running Late to the Bus

To continue to provide the safest possible transportation for your child we'd like to share the required safety protocol when running late to the bus in the morning. Never assume the bus driver can see your student unless they are at the bus stop before the bus approaches. The bus driver does not know your student is running late or has missed the bus.

It is required that you should either:

- Transport your student to school
- Call Transportation at 810-626-2175, allowing dispatch to communicate with the driver so they know where to expect your student, and get you ahead of the bus to keep your child out of the "danger zone"

Communication with the bus driver is critical in this situation.

Above and Below: HHS Student Council ran their first successful dodgeball tournament at the high school to raise money for Student Council. Mrs. Laura Moore arranged 10 student teams and 2 staff teams in a bracket-style tournament that crowned student team "Unknown Horizon" the winners. It was a great after school activity!

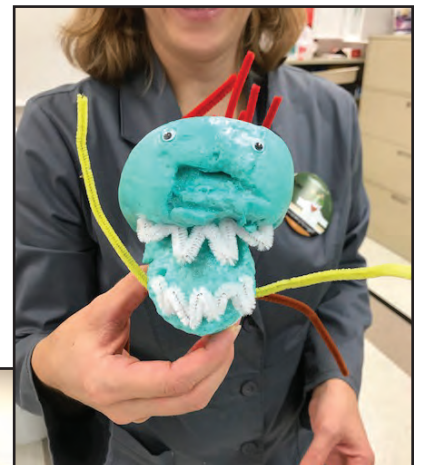

Right: Mrs. Anne Hasseld's AP Computer Science and Wires classes took a field trip to the new Google facility in Ann Arbor. Students got a facility tour, met with a Google Cloud programmer, and discussed programming languages used in the field. They also met with a sales person, who discussed a typical Google work week and employee perks, which include massages, meals, and even sleeping areas!

Right and Below: Mrs. Laura Moore's Material Science class explored different types of polyurethane foams by running reactions to produce foam critters.

Students were able to mix polymers and see the heat-producing reaction, dress it up, and take it home with them.

Right: Mr. Dan Aldred's Law and Criminal Justice class welcomed Detectives Dave Dwyre and Shawn Ellis to discuss interrogation tactics used on the job. Through real stories, examples, and role-play, Detective Dwyre and his partner engaged Mr. Aldred's classes in a mock classroom interrogation room.

Both men are retired detectives from the Genesee County Sheriff's Department as well as Flint PD and now work in the Michigan Attorney General's office. It was a great day to learn about life in the field of criminal justice!

Students were able to choose their fabric and design after an interview with the inclusion students to custom make them swim bags. The bags were presented and the students LOVED them!

Why the small things matter

It starts with your shoes

We do something very odd and unique at our karate school – we take off our shoes. Did you ever wonder why?

Well some of it is because of tradition. Another reason might be because it helps keep the dojo floor clean. But I think there is an even more powerful reason we take off our shoes and I would like to share it with the sincere hope it changes how you think and what you do. In the end, I think you will discover, this one seemingly simple task can profoundly change your child.

Okay, so why all this fuss and bother over shoes?

A good way to answer this is with some advice Navy Seal Admiral William McRaven gave as the 2014 commencement speaker at the University of Texas. The video of his speech went viral and you can easily view it on YouTube. Many say it was one of the best graduation speeches ever given. In it he shared the 10 life lessons he learned as a Navy Seal. The very first lesson was:

1. "If you want to change the world, start off by making your bed!"

The reason - this is the very first thing you do each day. He went on to say "If you can't do the little things right, you will never do the big things right." To change the world and be a leader you have to be able to do the small repetitious mundane things well.

Back to the karate school. We are here to help you develop the attitudes and character traits of the highly successful in your child. You can talk to your child until you are blue in the face. You can teach or show them what to do but most will never develop or embody these attitudes and character traits unless they experience them. Kids can only learn by doing. Can you imagine your child focused, intentional and driven to do everything, and especially the small things, perfectly every time? You get them started strong at the dojo and we will do the rest. After their class, hold them to a high standard in how they leave. No throwing their uniforms at you! No lost belts or gear! Remember the last thing you do at the dojo – put on your shoes!

How can you develop this "small things" lesson at home? How anyone starts their day is huge. Is your home where everything goes like clock-work all the way until you kiss them good bye in the morning. Or, does your morning start with you having to nag them repeatedly to get up? Do they complain or struggle as they get dressed and ready? Is it a challenge to get them to eat breakfast? Are you looking for lost things? Are you typically in a state of stress as you realize they are going to be late for school or the bus? Have you ever had a child that just starts the day badly and this same energy/emotion stays with them the rest of their day?

So, back to what you can do. Do they make their beds? One of my pet peeves is waking themselves up for school. Get them their own alarm clock. Teach your child the process and routine of starting strong. Do the small things well. Is this hard work on your part? Yes it is!

How about school? Ask your child or their teacher – what are the small repetitive but important things my child needs to do especially at the start of their school day? What are your routines and procedures for homework/reading at home?

In your child's karate class we do new things but if you notice we do many, many small things over and over the same way in almost every class. There is a method to our madness. Do you know another word for these simple mundane tasks done repeatedly over time? They are your "HABITS"! . . . What habits are our child developing?

It is worth repeating this quote from Mahatma Gandhi:

"Your beliefs become your thoughts, Your thoughts become your words, Your words become your actions, Your actions become your habits, Your habits become your character, Your character become your destiny."

Thank you from the Hartland Optimist Club!

The Hartland Optimist Club wants to thank each of you that were involved in this years Adopt-A-Family Program.

You know who you are and we couldn't of asked for better partners! The club would like to acknowledge the extraordinary effort of Meghan Glabach, Hartland Optimist Club member who served as the Chairperson for this year's Adopt-A-Family program.

In memory of one of our founding and special members, Ms. Judy Cowan, we share our Optimist Creed to serve as a gentle reminder of the value of life.

The Optimist Creed
Promise Yourself -

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.
To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.
To think only of the best, to work only for the best and to expect only the best.
To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Hartland Middle School won the 2017 National Red Ribbon Photo Contest for Region 5, which includes Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The school will receive $1000 for its school drug prevention programs.

National Family Partnership (NFP) provides drug awareness by sponsoring Red Ribbon Week. This week is a catalyst to mobilize communities to educate youth and encourage drug prevention activities. STAND and EBCE sponsored this week at the middle school from October 23rd through October 31st. The NFP 's Red Ribbon Photo Contest, now in its seventh year, is co-sponsored by the National Family Partnership and the Drug Enforcement Administration. This contest was designed to provide a natural opportunity for parents and educators to talk to kids about drug abuse and prevention in a relaxed and fun way.” said NFP President, Peggy Sapp.

At Hartland Middle School, students put up posters, ribbons and banners around the school to build awareness of the event. Daily announcements were made to enlighten students about the dangers of drug use. On Monday, October 23rd, students were given a red ribbon to tie on their wrist showing they pledge to be drug free. During lunch over two days STAND and EBCE worked all lunches and invited students to step up and sign a pledge to “Grow Up Safe, Healthy, and Drug Free”. On Tuesday, October 24th, students received “smarties” in their homeroom, tagged with the message, “Be a Smartie – Stay Drug Free”. Wednesday, October 25th, students were encouraged to wear red and participate in the school picture to be entered in the national photo contest. More than 200 students participated and received a sucker with the tag, “Don’t Be A Sucker for Drugs”. The photo was uploaded to the Red Ribbon site to await the voting process.

Online voting began, nationwide, on Friday, November 3rd and went through November 17th. Students, parents, and the entire community were encouraged to go to the Red Ribbon website to cast their vote. Participants were limited to one vote per 24 hour period per email address. On December 1st, the National Family Partnership announced twenty winners from around the country who received the most votes in each category and region.

Congratulations to the students at Hartland Middle School who worked so hard on the project, and thank you to everyone at the school and in the community who voted for our photo!

Hartland High School Drama Club, Troupe 4213 would like to thank everyone that attended their fall performance of Sherlock Holmes!

Next up - Student Showcase, January 19, at 7 pm at the Hartland High School Auditorium! This special night premieres seven short plays that are written and directed by the students. Come and join us to watch these funny, heartwarming and thought provoking shows.

Tickets are $5 at the door and all proceeds benefit Troupe 4213 as they prepare for their spring musical, The Hunchback of Notre Dame!

Save the dates now, April 20-22 and 27-29! Stay tuned to our website for more information - <http://hartlanddramaclub.weebly.com/>
