Chuck Hughes, Superintendent

 @hartlandschools

I would like to wish all of you a Happy Holiday Season. Last month I used this section to share information concerning school funding and the effort at becoming a Top 10 Educational State in 10 years. I shared the concern that our legislators are using a large portion of the School Aid Fund (SAF) to support community colleges and universities. I shared that this process is hurting the district's ability to cover the expenses associated with aging buildings and infrastructure, replacing old buses, and upgrading technology at an appropriate pace instead of trying to make it last longer, which never seems to work out well.

Despite being funded at the lowest level possible, our students continue to demonstrate achievement that is far and above the county and state average achievement scores as noted below with the MSTEP scores from Spring 2018:

	3rd Math	3rd ELA	4th Math	4th ELA
HCS Elementary Schools:	66%	67%	64%	65%

December 2018 Person of the Month: John VanGoethem

I am currently a Physical Education teacher at Farms and this is my 21st year teaching for Hartland Schools. I have a B.S. from MSU (Physical Education and Exercise Science) and a M.P.A. from UM-Flint (Educational Administration).

I have a wonderful wife, Kristina that I've been married to for 17 years. She is the foundation that makes our family so strong. Kristina is also in education, so our passion is working with children. We have been blessed with two wonderful daughters, Abigail and Margaret. Abbey is 16 and currently an 11th grader at Hartland High School. Our youngest daughter, Maggie, is a 7th grader at Ore Creek. I can't say enough about the quality of education that our children have received through Hartland Schools. We chose Hartland for our kids due to the dedication of its teachers and staff. Kristina and I are so proud of our daughters and watching them grow and mature while attending Hartland schools has been an exciting adventure.

I'm proud to work for Hartland Schools. I brag all the time to my friends and family about the dedicated and caring the people that I work with. My "Farms Family" has been there for me through good times and bad. I'm one of the few people in the world who enjoys going to work every day. One thing about working with kids is that each day is a different experience. Some days I laugh and others I want to bang my head against the wall, but we are all here for a shared vision-to make a difference and be a positive and calming influence in the lives of our students. I truly believe that I will retire a Hartland Eagle, and I could not imagine working anywhere else.

Although we've had some trying times in education the last decade, Hartland teachers, administrators, and support staff have battled and pushed forward. I've seen teachers I work with spend hours and hours, before and after school, preparing lessons to maximize student learning and achievement. We have secretaries that come in early and stay late to make sure the school runs smoothly. Maintenance workers go the extra mile to make sure our buildings are in top condition. Food service workers make sure children are being fed, which is crucial to the success of our schools. Custodians make our schools warm and inviting and bus drivers get our children to and from school safely every day. We also have support staff who ensure that all of our children are having their needs met and administrators who work tirelessly to keep it all together. These are all things that the community does not see, but everyone I talk to outside of our school agrees on one thing: Nobody does it better than Hartland.

I am proud of our staff and students for continuing to set challenging goals, and for engaging in the work necessary to self-evaluate and adjust efforts toward teaching and learning. It is important to understand that our district is only as good as the people, curriculum and facilities that we have to get the work done. I thank all of the staff for what they do on a daily basis including transportation, food service, support, teaching, running buildings, departments, and programs, etc. These efforts equate to all = all and the success of children throughout the district.

DRIVING HARTLAND'S FUTURE

Whether you're just beginning your career, looking to supplement your income, wanting to build lasting relationships in the community, or just enjoy working with children, becoming a driver is the perfect opportunity to join our Hartland team.

Kris a 15 year driver: "I enjoy working at Hartland Consolidated Schools where everyone is friendly, helpful, and really care about the well-being of our students. What I love most about driving is bringing the kids to school every day, watching their energy, and how they grow year after year. It has been fun and rewarding these last 15 years!"

Joe a 13 year driver: "As a retiree, I drive for several reasons. First, I love being outdoors and around kids; they help me think and feel young. Second, I enjoy getting to know kids individually over the course of the school year. Sharing some of their youthful ambitions, dreams and goals is particularly enjoyable. Over the years, I will often wind-up driving several children from the same family which is very special. The work schedule of a couple of hours mornings and afternoons gives me plenty of time for leisure activities during the day, and having summers off feeds my passions for sailing, fishing and golf. If you like kids, there is simply no better part time job on the planet."

Kalan a 2 year driver: "As a mother of two young children, being a bus driver has given me the ability to match my children's school schedules. Having these flexible hours and summers off is huge for our family. I also have found so much joy in watching our students learn and grow every day! I feel blessed having the opportunity to become a part of Hartland's Transportation family!"

The bond between the drivers is strong because they share the same passion. Their longevity is proof Hartland is an enjoyable rewarding place to work. Come join our team to brighten a child's day and give back to your community. Our staff is waiting to hear from you. Please call us at 810-626-2175.

From the Counseling Office: College Campus Tours

Is the fall of junior year too early to look at a few colleges? We encourage parents and students to visit several college campuses during the sophomore and junior years primarily to gain a sense of the different types of colleges and environments that are available. You can select a group of colleges that represent different sizes and types of schools within easy travel distance from home. Students should get a note from the admissions office with the date they attended the tour. Documented campus visits do not count toward Hartland's attendance policy.

What should I bring to a visit to a school? The Hartland High School Counseling Office can provide your student with a list of questions to consider while on a campus tour, in addition students should bring a notebook or journal in order to take notes during information sessions, write down immediate reactions to the campus, and list key additional questions you'll need to answer about the institution. After five (or fifteen!) visits, you'll be glad you took the extra time to track your feelings about each school, and your notes will remind you about what you liked and disliked.

What is one of the main things you need to know or do when you go to visit a college a campus? First, you need to know why you're there. Spend time browsing a college's website to gain an initial sense of a place before you visit. Then develop an understanding of why you're visiting this college. How could it fit for you? What kind of college model is it (large, small, urban, rural, competitive, arts-oriented, etc.)? Second, consider a few questions related to your own interests that you would like to make sure you have answered. The most important criteria are the teachers, the academic program, and the match you feel with the students on campus. So, don't focus too much on the food or the brand new student activities center. Consider what academic programs could be of interest to you, how the classes are run, and how students feel in general about their institution and their professors.

Should parents/guardians attend college visits with their child? Yes, at least one parent or guardian, should try to accompany a student on the visits he or she makes to colleges. Having a parent along can help a student to bounce reactions and reflections off someone he or she knows and trusts. Parents are the number one influence on a student's choice of school. The key is to allow students to take the lead in campus visits, and to let them offer the first responses to any given place. It's OK to disagree about colleges, and to discuss varying viewpoints. The ensuing conversation can help a student continue to define what the best environment will be for him or herself.

October 15-19 was College Planning Week. After our big push, 448 Hartland seniors submitted a total of 895 applications to 173 different schools, military branches and apprenticeship programs. In addition, during the College Application Week activities, high school staff members donated $500 toward a scholarship for a senior in the class of 2019.

Ms. Kate Hagerman's chemistry classes performed Halloween-themed demonstrations chemistry lab. Students watched demonstrations on different ways you can excite electrons to produce "glowing" light. Students then mixed up glow stick reactions that shined in the darkened classroom. Mrs. Hagerman's AP Chemistry students also exploded a pumpkin using a combustion reaction, leaving the pumpkin with a "carved."

Dr. Matt Assenmacher and his CAD Architecture classes took a walking tour of downtown Detroit to learn about different types of architecture. Students observed different types of building construction and researched historical significance of those buildings. Although it was a rainy day, the students enjoyed the trip!

Students in Ms. Lauren DePestel's Peer-to-Peer enjoyed a Halloween party! Hartland's Peer-to-Peer classes allow general education students to work one-on-one with special needs students in a setting that builds friendships and inclusion.

We had our Lakes Family Science Night put on by the Ann Arbor Hands On Museum in the Lakes cafeteria and gym. This event is provided by the generosity of the Lakes PTO. We had hundreds of students and families attend this evening to take part in twenty hands on Science experiments, ranging from identifying various animal teeth, testing the strength of their paper bridge designs, launching plastic bottle caps to study chemical reactions, and doing simple coding on chrome books, among many other fun-filled activities. We also would like to thank the over twenty HHS volunteers who helped run these exhibits. They were so helpful and their dedication to this event is greatly appreciated! Our students and families love the opportunity to enjoy these STEM-based activities each year!

The Round Round Up

As winter approaches, Round Elementary continues to be a place where we work hard and learn together as a team.

The high school band performed for our students in November. The music program in Hartland is impressive and our students were excited to hear them play.

In November, we worked on the social emotional training theme, "When I back away from a fear my fear gets bigger, but when I power through a fear I get bigger!" It is not big fears, but the small daily fears that erode our courage and create anxiety. A small fear is present anytime we hesitate, back away, second guess ourselves, or over think something. The secret formula to over-come fear is: Notice – Choose – Act. Just noticing a small fear, choosing to act, then acting will reduce anxiety.

We are blessed to live and work in such a supportive and caring community. Thank you to all of the Round School families that contribute every day to the success of our students. I am proud of the accomplishments our staff and students have made so far this year. We look forward to the New Year and all the changes we will see in our students. We would like to wish everyone much deserved rest and relaxation with family and friends during the holiday!

Hartland Optimist Club Christmas “Adopt-a-Family”

The Hartland Optimist Club will once again sponsor the “Adopt-a-Family” Program for families in need of help during the holiday season. If your group or family is looking for a community service project, or just a great way to celebrate the holiday season, in the true sense of giving why not consider Adopting A Community Family In Need.

HHS and Community Ed will have boxes in their buildings so families can donate non-perishable food items, and paper goods.

As this is a large undertaking, the Optimist Club can always use monetary donations. If you are interested, you can send your donation to the Hartland Optimist Club, P.O. Box 84, Hartland, MI 48353. There are many ways you can help support this project:

- Shop for a family.
- Donate nonperishable food items or paper products.
- Make a donation to Hartland Optimist Club.
- Join the Optimist Club and give your time.

All donations are appreciated; every dollar helps and goes directly to our families. Community support makes this worthwhile project a success!

A Special Christmas Story

As we quickly approach this special time of the year I would like to thank the schools, the community and most of all our wonderful families here at Ohana Karate for an amazing year. Please read this with your family.
 Sam Larioza, Ohana Karate

It's just a small white envelope stuck among the branches of our Christmas tree. No name, no identification, no inscription. It has peeked through the branches of our tree for the past 10 years or so. It all began because my husband Mike hated Christmas—oh, not the true meaning of Christmas, but the commercial aspects of it—the overspending, the frantic running around at the last minute to get a tie for Uncle Harry and the dusting powder for Grandma, the gifts given in desperation because you couldn't think of anything else.

Knowing he felt this way, I decided one year to bypass the usual shirts, sweaters, ties and so forth, so I reached for something special just for Mike. The inspiration came in an unusual way. Our son Kevin, who was 12 that year, was wrestling at the junior level at the school he attended and shortly before Christmas there was a non-league match against a team sponsored by an inner-city church, mostly black. These youngsters, dressed in sneakers so ragged that shoestrings seemed to be the only thing holding them together, presented a sharp contrast to our boys in their spiffy blue and gold uniforms and sparkling new wrestling shoes. As the match began, I was alarmed to see that the other team was wrestling without headgear, a kind of light helmet designed to protect a wrestler's ears. It was a luxury the ragtag team obviously could not afford.

Well, we ended up walloping them. We took every weight class. And as each of their boys got up from the mat, he swaggered around in his tatters with false bravado, a kind of street pride that couldn't acknowledge defeat. Mike, seated beside me, shook his head sadly, "I wish just one of them could have won," he said. "They have a lot of potential, but losing like this could take the heart right out of them." Mike loved kids—all kids—and he knew them, having coached little league football, baseball and lacrosse.

That's when the idea for his present came. That afternoon, I went to a local sporting goods store and bought an assortment of wrestling headgear and shoes and sent them anonymously to the inner-city church. On Christmas Eve, I placed the envelope on the tree, the note inside telling Mike what I had done and that this was his gift from me. His smile was the brightest thing about Christmas that year and in succeeding years. Each Christmas I followed the tradition—one year sending a group of mentally handicapped youngsters to a hockey game, another year a check to a pair of elderly brothers whose home had burned to the ground the week before Christmas, and on and on.

The envelope became the highlight of our Christmas. It was always the last thing opened on Christmas morning and our children, ignoring their new toys, would stand with wide-eyed anticipation as their dad lifted the envelope from the tree to reveal its contents. As the children grew, the toys gave way to more practical presents, but the envelope never lost its allure.

The story doesn't end there. You see, we lost Mike last year due to dreaded cancer. When Christmas rolled around, I was still so wrapped in grief that I barely got the tree up. But Christmas Eve found me placing an envelope on the tree, and in the morning it was joined by three more. Each of our children, unbeknownst to the others, had placed an envelope on the tree for their dad. The tradition has grown and someday will expand even further with our grandchildren standing around the tree with wide-eyed anticipation watching as their fathers take down the envelopes. Mike's spirit, like the Christmas spirit, will always be with us.

May we all remember each other, and the real reason for the season, and his true spirit this year and always.
