Parents Who Host Lose The Most: As graduation season approaches, I feel it is important to remind parents that providing alcohol to minors is against the law. Please support the community by enjoying graduation and celebrating in an appropriate manner. The district continues to support and promote the "Parents Who Host Lose The Most" campaign. Did you know the Transportation office is open throughout the summer?

Just as one school year ends, Transportation begins working on the next. Our office is open and staff will be available to accept forms and answer any questions you may have throughout the summer.

Efficient routes are created based on current busing forms (School of Choice, Joint Custody, and Alternate Destination) and enrolled student addresses. All busing forms are destroyed at the end of each school year, and new forms are required annually by July 1st to be assured of a seat on the proper bus. As we cannot assume anything, every year your student will be assigned to your home address unless a new form is submitted. All forms can be found at www.hartlandschools.us/Departments/Transportation/Forms.

Busing forms are required for:

- Students who are using a stop other than their home stop for morning or afternoon, or both morning and afternoon (Alternate Destination form)
- School of Choice students (School of Choice form)
- Students whose parents live in separate homes within the district (Joint Custody form)

Postcards will be mailed home a week before school starts with each student's bus information. If you have any questions, please give our office a call.

Ms. Jami Waddle's American Sign Language III Honors students traveled down to Creekside Elementary school to work with first and second grade students. Before the ASL III students traveled, they had to produce a 45-minute lesson plan to teach the elementary students about what it means to be deaf/hard of hearing, a few signs for animals, school words, and greetings, and to play a game with the students.

Mrs. Helen Kenney traveled with Hartland students Kyle Hamlin, Anthony Leick, Gabrielle Reed and Sydni Pieczarka to the Career Technical Education (CTE) Showcase at the Michigan capitol. These students were chosen to represent the Hartland High School Business Department. At the showcase, the students presented the highlights of being involved in the business and CTE department at Hartland High School and the impacts it has had on their high school and future college careers. Students met with the state Assistant Superintendent as well as Governor Gretchen Whitmer. Thank you for representing HHS well!

Mrs. Laura Moore's Material Science class performed a lab in which students investigated the amazing properties of glass. Students made glass bubbles out of glass rods as well as produced fiber-optic cords out of glass.

From the Guidance Office: How to Write Your College Essay

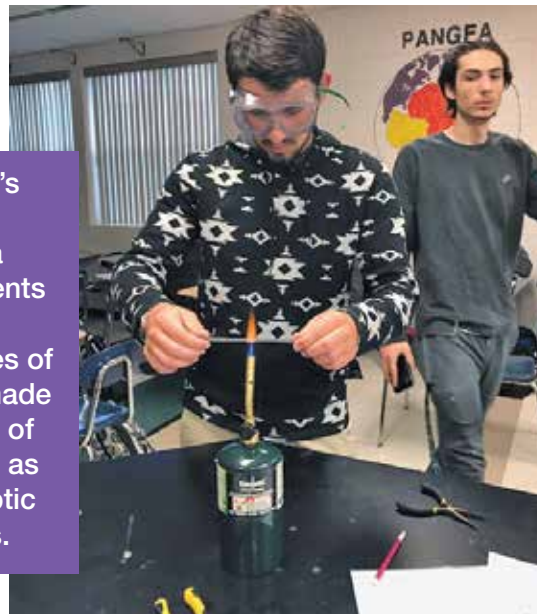

The admission essay is an important part of any college application. Some schools give more weight to the essay than others, but if an essay is required, you can bet it's going to be used in the admissions decision to some degree. Even if you have a high GPA, the essay provides an easy way for you to distinguish yourself from the other thousand applicants who have similar grades and activities as you. Writing an admissions essay that works will increase your chances of being accepted. To help you out, we have put together this easy list of do's and don'ts for writing your admission essay.

Do:

- Brainstorm ideas before you write. Choose the idea that fits you and a topic that you feel will be unique to you.
- Choose a topic that is specific. Doing so will allow you to go in-depth into one idea rather than trying to cover a broad topic with a short essay.
- Write multiple drafts of your essay and get feedback on each one from a parent or friend.
- Write as well as you can, edit the document and get help if needed. Use a mixture of sharp adjectives and smart wit without sounding too terse, verbose or ostentatious (SAT words!).

Don't:

- Don't choose offensive topics. Topics that maybe offensive are those that surround religion, racism and even personal opinions on world issues. You won't be doing yourself any favors if your essay leaves the admissions officer offended.
- Don't let anyone else dictate the topic of your essay. You can get help brainstorming if you want, but don't write about someone else's chosen topic.
- Don't write a negative essay. The more positive you are with the topic, the more enjoyable the essay will be to read.
- Don't be arrogant or pedantic in your writing. Admissions officers will see it, and arrogance will work against you in the admissions process.

Mrs. Jennifer Church's Health classes learned adult and child CPR, including the use of an Automated External Defibrillator (AED) to save lives through the Red Cross. Health is a graduation requirement for Hartland High School and students will leave the class Red Cross certified for CPR!

Mrs. Anne Hassel's Introduction to Programming classes worked with Lego Mindstorm EV3 Robots, which are programmable Lego sets! Students worked in pairs to build machines that could scoop, lift and move objects. The built machines were then programmed to perform a task using computer software. What a fantastic high school class that allows students to build with Legos while learning programming!

Medical Careers students in Mrs. Jaime Martin's classroom presented walk-around final exam posters. Students were required to research a career in which a degree in a medical field would be required. Students researched job requirements, employment projections, salary information and how their chosen degree can be rewarding. What an innovative way to get students moving and learning about a medical career!

Thank you!

I would like to thank the Hartland Middle School staff, faculty and parents and students for another great school year. Good luck to the class of 2023 as they move on to high school. Remember that you are a Hartland EAGLE and part of a long tradition of excellence in academics, arts, athletics and character. For incoming seventh graders and new eighth graders, remember that it is people – teachers, students, support staff, and parents – that make a school great. And we have the best middle school in the state!

Many of you already know that this is my last year as principal of Hartland Middle School at Ore Creek. I am retiring at the end of this school year after twenty years as principal. It has been one of the greatest privileges in my life to be the principal of this school in this community with these wonderful students and outstanding educators.

I know that under our new principal, Lawrence Pumford, Hartland Middle School at Ore Creek will continue to be a place where students are loved, kindness and compassion are valued, hard work is rewarded and multiple chances for success will be provided.

Seventh grader Karolina Spiewak (3rd from right) took third place at the State level of the Optimist International Oratorical Contest and won a $1,000.00 scholarship all while competing against high school students. Great job Karolina!

Many of our teachers participated in professional development this year called 'Read Aloud with Accountable Talk' pictured here is Mrs. Butzier's class who kept track of all of their Read Aloud books for the entire school year – that is a lot of reading, you make us proud!

Our annual Village Science Fair was a fantastic success, with all of our young scientists creating a variety of experiments to demonstrate each domain of scientific study: biology, chemistry, physics, geology etc. The thinking that our students put into their experiments along with the amazing presentations are definitely celebration worthy!

Thank You Memorial Day Parade Sponsors and Volunteers!

Thank you! The Hartland Area Community Council deeply appreciates ALL the volunteers who made Hartland's 84th Memorial Day event such a wonderful experience for so many! When Hartland held its first parade in late May 1936, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was still serving his first term, and earlier that year "Mutiny On the Bounty" won best picture. It was only the 8th Academy Award, and the United States consisted of just 48 States. The Hartland Music Hall and the Cromaine Library were already major features of the day-to-day life of this community, along with the annual presentation of the Messiah the second Saturday of December. All of these traditional experiences do not magically appear in the life of a community. The Hartland Area community Council continually seeks volunteers to help with the enormous task of planning the parade. You say your Memorial Days are too busy to help? There are dozens of important jobs that are completed well before late May. Putting together the parade booklets, helping with details like ordering the Port-A-Johns and having trash containers in Epley Park and along the parade route are just a few of the examples that are taken care of well in advance of parade day. The Community Council meets the first Monday of the month, starting in September and wrapping up with the June meeting. Meetings are usually held in the media center of the Middle School at Ore Creek—across from the Fire Department and Spranger Field on Hartland Road. The meeting begins at 6:30 PM and adjourns promptly no later than 7:30 PM. New faces are always welcome, along with new ideas. Consider attending, and meet other Hartland residents that want this eight-decade plus tradition going for decades to come!

Congratulations to Krystian Dembowski for Becoming an Eagle Scout!

Krystian Dembowski, of Troop 380, the oldest troop in Hartland, recently received the highest award of Eagle Scout. He was honored at a Court of Honor on April 13th at Saint Mary Magdalen Church, attended by Sheriff Mike Murphy and his teacher from Pathway School, Mr. Slaga. For his project, he built a bench for the Veteran's Memorial in the Hartland cemetery. Pictured here with Krystian is the Board of Review committee: Mrs. Kahl, Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Bye, Mr. Kalio and Mr. Tappen.

Essential Instructional Practices in Early Literacy

Here, at Hartland Preschool, we have adopted the ten recommended instructional practices as developed by the Early Literacy Task Force. Each month we will be exploring the practices that we perform in our classrooms. These important tips not only demonstrate what we practice in the preschool classrooms but are also important to nurture a well-rounded child as they enter elementary school and beyond.

The Instructional practices were developed by the Michigan Association of Intermediate School Administrators General Education Leadership Network (GELN) Early Literacy Task Force (2016). Essential instructional practices in early literacy: Prekindergarten, Lansing, MI: Authors.

Highlighting the 5th essential practice—Brief, clear, explicit instruction in letter names, the sound(s) associated with the letters, and how letters are shaped and formed.

There are many ways we incorporate letters and their sound in the classroom. Each week we study a different letter of the alphabet, the sound it makes and then we practice writing that letter. In preschool the children write their own name on their projects. To help form the letter correctly we use the Handwriting without Tears curriculum. It breaks down the letter into lines and curves and it helps the children see the formation of the letters. When writing the letter Xx we tell the students to start at the top and slide down (diagonally), jump to the top and slide down to the other side, while demonstrating it at the same time. Along with letter formation we use Zoo-Phonics to help the students with the letter sound, i.e. X is for Xavier Fox: cross fingers and give the letter sound /ks/. This is a great way to incorporate letter sounds with a letter while the children have fun. Throughout the week we have fun games and activities to go along with each letter. In our literacy center we provide a wide range of books all with a focus on the letter of the week. During group time the books we choose allow us to demonstrate the letter and its sound. Throughout the day we are always working on letters and their sounds and it is great to see them begin to notice all the letters around the room and the sound they make.

Highlighting the 8th and 10th essential practices—Abundant reading materials and collaborating with families to promote literacy.

Consistent exposure to literacy is a very important piece to helping children learn about our language and begin to learn the skills needed to begin reading. All of our classrooms have age appropriate texts available for children to explore at all times of the day. Read-alouds are a part of our daily routines, and sometimes even incorporate the use of technology. Our rooms are filled with students' names, labels of objects around the room, color words, the alphabet, and other pieces of written text in play areas. For example, in the dramatic play area, we have recipes and menus for children to play and become familiar with seeing text in different aspects. As we read different stories together and learn new letters and concepts, children notice the similarities in their play and are able to connect their new knowledge. It is a goal of all of our teachers to extend the learning we do in the classroom to the children at home. We explain to parents when they pick up at the end of the class all that we learned about during class and things they can do at home with their child to continue the topic. We continually recommend building book exposure for reading and learning at home through class book orders, recommendations from what we learn in class, and even sending books home for children to borrow and read with their families. Literacy throughout our daily routine is crucial to the development of our young learners, and as teachers, we strive to provide the best opportunities for our students.

On behalf of HCPS, we would like to thank everyone for a great year, wish everyone a happy summer. We look forward to seeing families in the fall!
