On May 5 residents of Hartland Consolidated Schools will vote on a $45 million bond proposal. The bond proposal was designed to keep Hartland Consolidated Schools' facilities and instructional spaces up-to-date by addressing needs in four major categories: 1) renovating, upgrading, and constructing school facilities, including safety and security improvements, 2) upgrading technology and technology infrastructure, 3) upgrading athletic facilities, and 4) replacing school buses as they reach the end of their useful life.

To give you an overview of what the bond proposal will mean to our students, community, and the school district, please turn to page 3 for more information.

You might have noticed orange squares around the school district. These squares represent spaces in which the May 5, 2020 Bond Proposal would impact if passed. Please feel free to ask staff about any space marked with one of these squares or visit www.hartlandschools.us to view bond documents which include a breakdown of work to be completed, by building.

Congratulations Winter Programs!

Congratulations to our winter extra-curricular and co-curricular programs at Hartland High School. If you have been following social media, you know that our DECA, World Language, Woman in Technology, Quiz Bowl, and Leadership students have been very successful. Our winter sports teams including gymnastics, girls and boys basketball, wrestling, hockey, bowling, competitive cheer, Pom Pon, boy's swimming, archery, snowboarding and skiing have had team or individual successes. The Hartland Consolidated School District believes that strong programming creates a motivating connection to school, which manifests itself into students positively engaging and succeeding in the classroom. In most years, student participation in co-curricular and/or extra-curricular programs exceeds 75% of the high school student body. As a district, we believe that success in the classroom must be a priority, and that participation in outside-of-class programs is a privilege. With the support of the community, teachers, support staff, paid coaches/sponsors and volunteers, our students are succeeding. Together, we have been successful in remaining a "Premiere School of Choice" district.

April 2020 Person of the Month: Margaret Bandkau

I have been the Title I intervention teacher at Farms Intermediate School for the past ten years. Prior to that I taught both 5th and 6th grades and was a long-term substitute teacher in the district for 6 years. I earned a Bachelor's degree in Secondary Education/English Language Arts and my Elementary Education certification from Eastern Michigan University. Additionally I have a Master's in Reading from Oakland University and have been Reading Recovery trained through the Genesee Intermediate School District (GISD)/Oakland University.

When my family decided to move to Livingston County 35 years ago, we only knew that whatever house we chose, it had to be in a premier school district. Although my college roommate, who graduated from Hartland Schools, had always insisted it was the best district "in the state," I felt the need to do my own research. Needless to say, we moved into the Hartland School District, from which my two sons began kindergarten and graduated from high school.

I am the product of twelve years of parochial education, so for me, sending my first-born to a public school was an enormous leap of faith, but I have never regretted my decision to do so. From the time they started at Lakes, through their time at Farms, then Ore Creek and finally the "new" high school, I have been amazed at the dedication, compassion, insight, knowledge and spirit of the teachers and administrators whose instruction my sons have had the privilege of experiencing. I am proud to say that they are both successful professionals. One is a Lawrence Technological University graduate and the other a Michigan State University Spartan for Life. I feel strongly that much of their success is due to their teachers and Hartland Schools.

Before I began teaching in Hartland, I often volunteered to work with students in classrooms in order to support teachers. One of my favorite "assignments" was when each of my sons was in first grade and I had the pleasure of running a "Writer's Workshop" in their classrooms. As my kids got older, I decided that I really wanted to be back in the classroom, so I started guest teaching in the district and taught at every level, from kindergarten through twelfth grade. After several long-term assignments at Farms, I made the decision to go back to school to get an elementary endorsement and have been teaching at Farms, full time, ever since. Although every grade level is uniquely special, I really love working with 5th and 6th graders. This is the time period when they begin to become a little more responsible and a lot more independent. As the Title I teacher, I am honored to work with small groups of students, to provide additional support in either math or reading, or both, and, more importantly, to hopefully instill in them a love of reading and the self-confidence needed to tackle our sometimes-grueling math curriculum. Working on the Instructional Consultation Team (ICT) in an effort to "Make the Match" and ensure success for all students at Farms, as well as my training in Reading Recovery, have greatly aided me in my teaching.

I feel extremely fortunate to be able to teach at Farms alongside such a great group of dedicated teachers and administrators who both challenge and inspire us to be the best we can be and make coming to school enjoyable.

It is difficult to put into words what the Hartland School District has meant to me and my family. Essentially, it is HOME and everything that entails. I wouldn't trade it for anyplace else.

Hartland Bond Proposal on May 5th Ballot

Dear Hartland Community,

On May 5th residents will vote on a $45 million bond proposal designed to fund improvements at all Hartland Consolidated Schools' facilities.

The district worked for over a year with construction and architectural specialists to conduct an in-depth facility study while the district administrative team developed a list of potential bond proposal projects. The final list of projects was developed after obtaining feedback from parent-teacher organizations, senior citizen voters, HAYAA representatives, archery, music, and robotics advocates, school administrators, teachers, and school district coaches. In addition, the proposed list of projects was presented to a series of focus panels composed of various school district constituents.

Every project in the bond proposal was reviewed and approved by the Michigan Department of Treasury. If approved by voters, the bond proposal will affect every Hartland student and every Hartland school facility.

The $45 million bond proposal will require a 1.44 mill increase in the current tax rate. This increase would cost $169.20 per year, or about 46¢ per day for the average Hartland Township homeowner. Many Hartland Township homeowners may pay less than that.

The bond proposal is designed to support the school district's plan to provide even more educational opportunities for students and benefits to the community. I believe that voter approval of the bond proposal will reflect positively on homeowner property values.

Communicating about the bond proposal has been a primary focus over the past few months and will continue to be a primary focus. We want to make sure residents understand the impact of a successful bond for our students and our community.

Complete information about the May 5th bond proposal, including a full list of projects, is posted on the school district's website, www.hartlandschools.us. Residents with questions are invited to call any Hartland Consolidated Schools Principal or to contact me at 810-626-2105 or by email at chuckhughes@hartlandschools.us.

Sincerely,

Chuck Hughes
Superintendent

Did you know that HHS has a student pantry?

Through staff coordination, HHS provides snacks for students who need them during the day and sends home bags of food for the weekend. At the start of the year, all students completed a survey. This survey helped determine which students needed this service. We have been running the pantry on donations from the community for the past couple of years. Many organizations have donated along the way. If you are able to donate to our student pantry, below is a list of items that are preferred by our students. Items may be dropped off in the front office. Thank you in advance.

- Meat sticks
- Individual mac-n-cheese microwave cups
- Ramen noodles & ramen cups
- Pop tarts
- Peanut butter crackers/cheese and crackers
- Applesauce and fruit cups
- Microwave popcorn bags
- Cans of soup-chicken noodle preferred
- Individual tuna packets and tuna with cracker
- Drawstring bags to carry the food

The HHS Choirs, under the direction of Ms. Bailey Shepherd, put on a dazzling show at their spring choir concert. The groups sang beautifully and sang difficult songs in multiple languages! It was a beautiful night of beautiful voices!

Physics teacher Mr. Chad Kawa had his students investigating the energy of collisions using Bluetooth-sensored cars. Students were able to explore by adjusting the weights on the cars and graphing the equal and opposite energy transfer.

HHS Student Council along with advisors Mrs. Kathleen Hoerauf and Mrs. Justine Jovanovski traveled to Grand Rapids for the state Student Leadership Conference. Students got to network with other student council groups and got wonderful ideas and leadership strategies to continue to have an impact on Hartland High.

Congratulations to the Hartland High DECA Chapter as they had 40 students qualify for the International DECA competition in Nashville in April! Hartland also fielded 69 state finalists at the competition that took place in downtown Detroit. Junior student Ava Williams was named the VP of Business Partnership, a DECA executive officer position. Congratulations to all who competed, the International Qualifiers, and to Ava Williams on a job well done!

Thank you to all of the families and staff who came out to Cromaine Library for Lakes Reading Night during March is Reading Month. Students got to listen to some great books read by some special people!

Lakes Elementary had a two-week coin drive to raise funds for the wildlife in Australia affected by the recent wildfires. Our Coins for Koalas drive raised over $1,800! Our Kindness Club (made up of Lakes fourth graders) created a video to share with the entire school and put posters up around the school to promote the coin drive. Students donated change in jars in each classroom the first week of the drive and then were able to put change in grade level jars the second week. Each grade raised over $300 and our 1st grade raised an additional $200 to support wildlife at the Howell Nature Center. A special thank you to Lakes staff members Leslie Leemgraven, Lisa Villar, Matt Conway, Toni Johnson, Doreen Avenall, Shari Russano and Mary Peters for their hard work on this project!

We thoroughly enjoyed Author Karen Brege and her husband Illustrator Darrin Brege and their inspiring and fun presentation/performance on the importance of practice, reading and always being nice.

Thank you to everyone who came out to our annual Ice Cream Social and Family Book Fair Night! Lots of ice cream and purchasing books to read in March and beyond!

Second, third and fourth grade students were treated to a wonderful concert by the Brass Quintet from the Ann Arbor Symphony Orchestra. Very informative and entertaining!

February Village Victor Winners

Our Village Victors are continuing to demonstrate Village expectations. We asked the teachers to review our playground expectations this month as the snow accumulated. Our Victors took this to heart and showcased model behavior on the playground and in all areas of the building. We appreciate the reinforcement that you provide at home in helping to make Village a great place to learn and grow. This month our winners are earning a $5 coupon for the upcoming book fair. This month's winners are junior kindergartener Ava Carigan, kindergartener Anna Angus, first grader Lucy Fellows, second grader Adam Gregory, third grader Elijah Lowe and fourth grader Chris Petroff.

Our Village Staff is very excited to welcome Carolyn Thompson. Carolyn is a former Hartland grad that has a wealth of teaching experience. Most recently, she taught in South Lyon schools. We are excited to welcome her to Village as a Special Education teacher serving students in 2nd and 3rd grade. Please welcome Carolyn when you see her around the building.

Representative Hank Vaupel came to Village to read to some of our classes. Representative Vaupel chose a few selections from Shel Silverstein to entertain our students. Students were excited to have a special guest reader in the building.

During the month of February, our students collected coins to help support the animals that were injured or whose habitats were destroyed by the Australian wildfires. In total our school raised $854.88 and Mrs. Camilleri's class raised the most money. This class will receive a bagel party courtesy of Mrs. Kreger for their efforts. We are proud of our students and community and their willingness to give back. Mrs. Camilleri's bagel party was held on March 3rd and the students were very excited.

To kick off March is Reading Month, Village celebrated Dr. Seuss' birthday on March 2nd. The staff and students dressed as their favorite Dr. Seuss characters and Mrs. Kreger read a passage from Oh, the Place You Will Go on the announcements in the morning. Our students enjoyed eating Green Eggs and Ham in the cafeteria on March 3rd and there were many Thing 1 and 2's roaming around the building. As the month progressed we had fun with other fun activities, including our March Book Madness Tournament. Students completed their "book brackets" and are voting as a class for which book should move forward in the tournament. Our Villagers are excited to find out which book will be crowned the tournament champion.

Part V: Post-Secondary Planning with Alternative Education

Achieving a Hartland Consolidated School's diploma is a lofty achievement that all alternative education faculty members academically support and social-emotionally encourage. Post-secondary planning is a natural complement to the process as students realize the real-life applicability to their studies. Students in both LEGACY and HVA continue building individualized portfolios known as EDPs, Educational Development Plan. These plans help with the following:

- Engage students with Michigan's 17 career clusters.
- Build leadership experiences.
- Create postsecondary and employment portfolios—resumes and job shadows.
- Engage students in course planning and continuing to acquire knowledge about careers, education and employment opportunities

Throughout the course of this year, students have experienced many of these opportunities and the staff looks forward to building the programming in the future.

Career Quest 2020 field trip.

February Students of the Month

Emma Verkerke is a LEGACY senior and proud HCS athlete. She is a four-year gymnast who was State Bank Athlete for the week of Feb 2-6. Emma is a role model in the gym and classroom. She is a hard worker, who teachers celebrate as “respectful, dedicated and goal orientated.” Her plans include college programming in health services. She enjoys caring for others and this is unmistakable as she is an integral part of LEGACY peer-to-peer program with the preschool classrooms. Emma looks forward to a career in the medical field.

Khloe Siemen is a LEGACY senior whose smile welcomes everyone. Her teachers sing her praises as a “delightful student to work with that is always happy to see her fellow peers and educators.” This positive demeanor makes children gravitate toward her and serves her well as a caregiver as she works with preschool aged children. Khloe is dependable and deliberate with her work.” And as she leaves LEGACY's campus, she is considering a career in the US Armed Forces—specifically in the Army. We know that wherever she chooses to serve her dedication will ensure she rises to the top of her class yet again.

Welcome to Hartland Preschool!

“Hey! That’s mine, give it back!” How many times do you hear adults yell this phrase at another adult? Hopefully we don’t! But where do we learn that’s not how we talk to people? Someone had to teach us along the way how to ask for something with kindness. Hartland Preschool supports and nurtures children with this crucial developmental process. The most natural way to facilitate progress is when they’re at work.

Children’s work is their play. They learn so much when they seem to be merely playing. You may see two children engaged with play dough. Most understand the fine motor benefits, but so many more skills are being acquired. They are conversing about what they are making—this develops creativity and imagination. They are learning to share materials and working together. Another example is children building a block structure. The same principles are being applied here: creativity, conversation and cooperation.

Children need play to explore, navigate and understand their world. The most amazing learning at the preschool age happens through cooperative play. Whether it’s structured learning time or choice time, the teachers at Hartland Preschool design the classrooms and activities to provide many fun opportunities for children to learn and grow socially through play.

These skills that are learned through play and structured activities are part of the foundation for future growth and academic learning successes.

Below is a quote from Amy Weatherly that gives us inspiration as both educators and parents.

“Children have this amazing way of becoming exactly who we tell them they are. If we tell them they are strong, they become strong. If we tell them they are kind, they become kind. If we tell them they are capable, they become capable. Speak life into your kids, so they will have what it takes to tackle their own life one day.”

HACC Memorial Day Event Information

The 85th Memorial Day event is around the corner—May 24 and May 25! The planners in the Hartland Area Community Council are making every effort to bring another well-organized parade and we are counting on you, and good weather, for it to be well attended.

For print ads in our parade booklet, a table or booth at Eply Park or to be in the parade, fill out the form on our website www.hartlandcommunitycouncil.org. The deadline for the booklet is April 13th and the deadline for tables and booths is May 4th. The deadline to be in the parade is May 15th.

Memorial Day weekend events begin on Sunday, May 24th with The Evening Salute to Our Heroes in the Hartland Burial Ground—the cemetery across from Cromaine District Library on Hartland Road. Hartland High School History Club students will re-enact the heroes who “reside” in the cemetery between 6 and 7 PM. The memorial service begins at 7 PM and Taps will be played to end the service. Do not miss this moving event, an integral part of the Memorial Day commemoration for many years. The Hartland Band Boosters Pancake Breakfast fundraiser at Village Elementary (7:30-10:30 AM) and services in both Parshallville and Hartland cemeteries precede the parade which kicks off at noon on Monday, May 25th from the Hartland Middle School at Ore Creek.

Maps showing road closures and parking lots are available at locations throughout the community. No roadside parking is permitted; entry to the parade staging area (Hartland Road from Dunham to Crouse) is prohibited once the roads close.

This is an all-out, everyone welcome, community event for the Hartland area and the biggest Memorial Day Parade in the County.

Are we overprotecting our children? Are we really asking the right question?

Instead of writing in generalities or concepts, I feel it's much more powerful and valuable to share actual situations or questions I encounter from our parents. Here is part of a recent email from a mother with a very common question. (I have changed the names.)

"...My daughter Kreslyn is very shy and reserved around other people and I'd like her to build some confidence before starting kindergarten in the fall. She was born with hearing and speech problems and is also an only child so I suppose she's always been a bit overprotected. Sometimes I don't feel like I'm challenging her enough. But since she's so sensitive it can be hard to know when is the right time to push and when to let things go. I guess I want to make sure I do everything I can to help her reach her potential and teach her that the best things in life come from doing things that are difficult..."

Here is part of my response back: "...You can tell Kreslyn I was also very shy when I was young. Shyness is near and dear to my heart. I wish someone had taught me when I was young that shyness is just a fear. I love to teach children and parents the phrase "Every time I back away from a fear the FEAR gets bigger, but every time I power through a fear I get bigger!" Being sensitive is a very good thing in all children, but it should never be allowed to be an excuse or crutch for backing away from anything."

Here is the key to how you (and we) can help Kreslyn. Make Kreslyn face discomfort often and help her power through it. Then make her do things she does not want to do often. Both have to be done consistently and frequently. The intensity of these emotions need to be increased with success and time. This builds "strong" children. Doing the opposite develops weak children. Tell Kreslyn karate is hard work. Kids need to skin their knees and eat dirt!

Don't worry it is very natural for parents to protect their children. Parents have to work hard to stand back. I am sure you have seen this on the internet recently: "First child eats dirt, parent calls the doctor. Second child eats dirt, parent cleans out his mouth. Three child eats dirt, parent wonders if she really needs to feed him lunch."

So, "Are we overprotecting our child?" Let's start by backing up a little. When human babies are born they need someone 24/7 to care and do almost everything for them in order to survive. Thank goodness mothers are hard wired to do this! But this can work against us as our children grow up. Add to this the excessive and counterproductive fear and paranoia we have for everything from abductions, to the flu, to school shootings, to bad weather. No wonder we never let them play outside on their own. We solve all their problems and we cover them in anti-bacterial soap.

I believe the question is not "Are we overprotecting our children?" but instead "Are we SHIFTING our roles as parents as our children grow and develop?"

If we treat and care for our children like we did in their first six months of life they will become weak. The four good stresses of fear, hardship, failure and boredom makes us stronger! You need to shift your role as a parent so your children get the progressively higher levels of the good stress they need in order to grow strong.

Here is the key, you need to make these role shifts as a parent to raise strong, independent and successful children. You must go from Caregiver/Teacher to Manager/Coach to Consultant/Mentor. When the shift occurs may be different for each child but I think if you are perceptive it will be easy to tell.

So, the real question is: Are you shifting your role as a parent? Are you still treating your 8 year old more like a six month old? How about your 13 year old? Now about your 18 year old?

Yours for stronger kids,
Sensei
