Superintendent's Corner

Chuck Hughes, Superintendent

 @hartlandschools

Dear Hartland Community:

Hartland Consolidated Schools Board of Education has placed a bond proposal on the May 5th ballot. Developed over the past two years, this proposal will impact our school district in many ways during the coming years. For example, it will:

- address building facility needs such as selected roof, window, door, flooring and furniture replacement; enhanced security; and, upgraded control systems for heating, cooling, and lighting;
- upgrade academic areas, including theatre, athletics facilities, and technology;
- create space for programs that are expanding, such as robotics, archery, band, and athletics;
- replace items when they reach the end of their useful life, such as school buses; and control systems;
- provide relief to the operating budget by supporting the items listed above. This, in turn, should enable the school district to improve programming across the district in areas such as STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math), literacy, and teacher support.

The bond proposal was put together with input from community stakeholders in the fall of 2018, and from six focus groups in the fall of 2019 before being finalized by the Board of Education.

As the Superintendent of Hartland Consolidated Schools, it is my job to look forward to the needs of the district and to make recommendations that are financially viable, beneficial to our students and staff, and position the school district for the future.

I believe a successful bond election will enable us to continue providing quality educational opportunities to our students and other members of the community.

What will this proposal cost the average homeowner? The simple answer is roughly 46¢ a day based on the average home value in Hartland Township.

The long answer means sharing the formula that residents can use to calculate their actual cost. To do this you should locate your Taxable Value on your most recent tax bill. (It is likely one-half or slightly less than one-half of your home's market value.) Multiply the Taxable Value by 0.00144. This will give you the yearly cost. Divide the yearly cost by 365 to get the daily cost.

An example: The taxable value is $117,500. Multiply $117,500 by 0.00144 to get your annual cost ($169.20). Divide $169.20 by 365 to get your daily cost (46¢).

For more information regarding the May 5th bond proposal please visit www.hartlandschools.us or contact me at 810-626-2100 or by email at chuckhughes@hartlandschools.us.

Sincerely,

Chuck Hughes
Superintendent

March 2020 Person of the Month: Sherri Quinn

I have worked in Hartland Schools for 25 years. I have been privileged to work at Round Elementary, Lakes Elementary, Farms Intermediate and the High School, with Round being my placement for most of these years.

I received my Bachelor of Science degree in Speech and Hearing Science at the University of Illinois and my master's degree in Speech and Language Pathology from Southern Illinois University. I have also earned a Certificate of Clinical Competence with the American Speech Language and Hearing Association. I completed the instructional consultation training and was on the coaching committee at Livingston Educational Service Agency for several years.

My husband and I have been happily married for 29 years and live in Fenton. We have two sons, Tom and Phillip. Tom is 23 and a senior at Oakland University studying mechanical engineering. Phillip is 17 and a senior at Fenton High School. Our sons have been very involved in music, both playing the saxophone, so we have loved watching them perform. I enjoy spending time with my family, participating in church activities, taking walks and reading.

My 25 years in Hartland have allowed me to have so many wonderful experiences with students, staff, and parents. One of my most memorable moments is the year Round School implemented Literacy Intervention groups in the classroom. It was a year of tremendous professional growth and learning. Also, some of my fondest memories are the times I have worked with staff to implement various social skills and learning groups. I find collaborating with my colleagues an enjoyable and rewarding experience and it is exciting to see students grow and learn as a result of it.

Over the years I have been so fortunate to work with many gifted, caring, and knowledgeable teachers, staff and administrators. There is always more to learn, and I appreciate being in a district that provides ongoing opportunities for learning and growth. I have been touched on so many occasions with how the staff supports each other both professionally and personally. It truly feels like a family. I am grateful for the many wonderful families I have worked with over the years and would like to think that together we have made a difference in their child's success. Hartland staff and administrators have a genuine concern for student's growth and well-being which is evident every day. I feel privileged to say I work in Hartland Schools.

Do you know someone that has provided leadership and community service to the Hartland area over the years? Someone who worked or works tirelessly for the community and will not seek recognition for their community contributions. To make a nomination, please provide the name and contact information of the person you wish to honor and the reasons you believe that this individual deserves this honor. You can e-mail your nomination to Cliff Schiesel at cschiesel@gmail.com or mail it to the Hartland Area Community Council, P.O. Box 113, Hartland, MI 48353. It's time to start thinking about busing for the new school year. For your convenience, forms are now being accepted to ensure room on every bus to accommodate your transportation needs for the first day of school.

All transportation forms (Alternate Destination, Joint Custody, School of Choice, and Legacy forms) will expire at the end of the 19/20 school year. If new forms are not submitted, in-district students will automatically be assigned to the closest bus stop to their home address, and non-resident students will not receive a bus assignment.

The deadline for submitting forms to the Transportation Office to request a bus assignment other than the home address is June 15, 2020. Late transportation requests will not be considered until after the first two weeks of school.

The Transportation and Central Office staff will be available throughout the summer months if you should have any questions or need assistance. Post cards with your student's bus information should arrive a week before the first day of school. If you have any questions feel free to call us at 810-626-2175.

Forms are now available on the district web site.

In the Alumni Spotlight: Brittany Law Foley

Brittany Foley is a 2005 graduate of Hartland High School. She attended Round Elementary and Ore Creek Middle School as well. While at HHS, she was an active member of the DECA chapter and a member of the varsity softball and bowling teams. Following HHS, Brittany attended Alma College where she double majored in foreign service and economics. She met her future husband, Ray Foley of South Lyon, at Alma. Brittany also holds degrees from the College of William & Mary School of Law (J.D., '11) and University of Michigan (M.U.P., '13).

Brittany and Ray live in Detroit with their daughter Willa, where she works for the Consulate General of Canada as a Trade Commissioner. The Canadian Consulate is a diplomatic mission of the Canadian government and is responsible for advancing Canada's foreign policy and trade interests in this region. Recently, the Consulate was responsible for the USMCA (NAFTA 2.0) trade advocacy efforts throughout Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. In addition to this work, Brittany manages the agri-food and beverage trade portfolio for the Consulate and is preparing to act as a co-lead on a bi-national economic development strategy.

Brittany and her family in Bruges, Belgium.

Brittany credits Hartland public school teachers with providing a strong foundation in analytical thinking and complex problem solving. Middle school advanced math with Mr. Doerr introduced a way of thinking about math that she says provided a greater understanding of mathematical relationships. The businesses classes with Mr. Reilly in high school helped set her on the path to study economics at college. Reflecting on her experiences in the public school system Brittany states, "Hartland residents are incredibly lucky to live in a community with such great public schools and committed teachers. I really encourage everyone in the district to continue to support this asset that is so critical to young families like ours."

Congratulations Brittany!

Do you know a Hartland graduate that is worthy of the spotlight? Send nominations to editor Heather Calabrese at communitylife@hartlandschools.us and we will select one person to spotlight in each issue of Community Life.

Going On College Campus Tours

Is the fall of junior year too early to look at a few colleges?

We encourage parents and students to visit several college campuses during the sophomore and junior years primarily to gain a sense of the different types of colleges and environments that are available. You can select a group of colleges that represent different sizes and types of schools within easy travel distance from home. Students should get a note from the admissions office with the date they attended the tour. Documented campus visits do not count toward Hartland's attendance policy.

What should I bring to a visit to a school?

The Hartland High School Counseling Office can provide your student with a list of questions to consider while on a campus tour, in addition students should bring a notebook or journal in order to take notes during information sessions, write down immediate reactions to the campus and list key additional questions you'll need to answer about the institution. After five (or fifteen!) visits, you'll be glad you took the extra time to track your feelings about each school, and your notes will remind you about what you liked and disliked.

What is one of the main things you need to know or do when you go to visit a college a campus?

First, you need to know why you're there. Spend time browsing a college's website to gain an initial sense of a place before you visit. Then develop an understanding of why you're visiting this college. How could it fit for you? What kind of college model is it (large, small, urban, rural, competitive, arts-oriented, etc.)? Second, consider a few questions related to your own interests that you would like to make sure you have answered. The most important criteria are the teachers, the academic program, and the match you feel with the students on campus. So, don't focus too much on the food or the brand new student activities center. Consider what academic programs could be of interest to you, how the classes are run and how students feel in general about their institution and their professors.

Should parents/guardians attend college visits with their child?

Yes, at least one parent or guardian, should try to accompany a student on the visits he or she makes to colleges. Having a parent along can help a student to bounce reactions and reflections off someone he or she knows and trusts. Parents are the number one influence on a student's choice of school. The key is to allow students to take the lead in campus visits, and to let them offer the first responses to any given place. It's OK to disagree about colleges and to discuss varying viewpoints. The ensuing conversation can help a student continue to define what the best environment will be for him or herself.

(Modified from www.petersons.com)

Global Studies teacher, Mr. Michael Johnston, turned his classroom into an episode of CSI to bring teaching the European Renaissance to life! Freshmen social studies students worked in teams to gather clues found around the classroom to figure out the famous 15th century assassination attempt on the Medici brothers, members of a prominent Italian banking family. Students had to listen to historians, read cryptic letters and even decode secret coded letters to gather evidence to support their claim of who attempted the assassination that changed 15th century Europe forever. What a great way to learn about historical events that shaped today's world!

On January 24 and 25, over 30 HHS band members participated in the MSBOA District 4 Solo and Ensemble Festival. These students were able to play in small groups or alone for expert musicians and were provided commentary to improve their musicianship. Students that received an excellent rating are able to participate in the state solo and ensemble festival that is held in March. Congratulations to all that participated!

Honors chemistry students in Mrs. Jessica Simpson's classes performed an inquiry lab about the periodic table. Elements and their characteristics were represented by an envelope full of stick people with different styles of hair, number of fingers, number of arms and an outfit. Students, in small groups, were asked to construct something based on the patterns on each of the tiny paper people. Students ended up constructing a periodic table, which included electron trends. A cool way to see how trends really effect the period table layout!

In February, Hartland students interested in participating in Shared Time programming met with program directors to learn more about programs offered. Shared Time are courses offered to HHS students and are run at different Livingston County schools. Shared Time programs offer students the opportunity to earn a certification or endorsement upon completion of the two year programs.

Congratulations to Hartland High School students Caralyn Jellison and Kayla Everett as they were each awarded Hartland Chamber of Commerce scholarships worth $2000! Students were chosen after submitting essays about how living in Hartland has affected them and how they'd like to come back to the area to contribute to the community. Congratulations!

The Round Round up!

March is Reading Month is here! Author Bryan Chick will provide an assembly for Round students. Bryan Chick is the author of the Secret Zoo series. He originally had the idea for the series when he was a nine-year-old and wondered what would happen if zoo exhibits had secret doors that allowed children to go inside . . . and the animals to come outside. Round has a number of wonderful activities scheduled during March! We will continue to promote reading at home as an integral part of becoming a life-long reader!

We would like to thank our parents for all of their continued support. Our PTO and volunteers have made it possible to purchase a water refill station and a new play structure will be installed this spring. Please consider attending a PTO meeting, volunteering for a PTO event and shadowing a board member. Together Everyone Achieves More (T.E.A.M) and we want you on our TEAM!

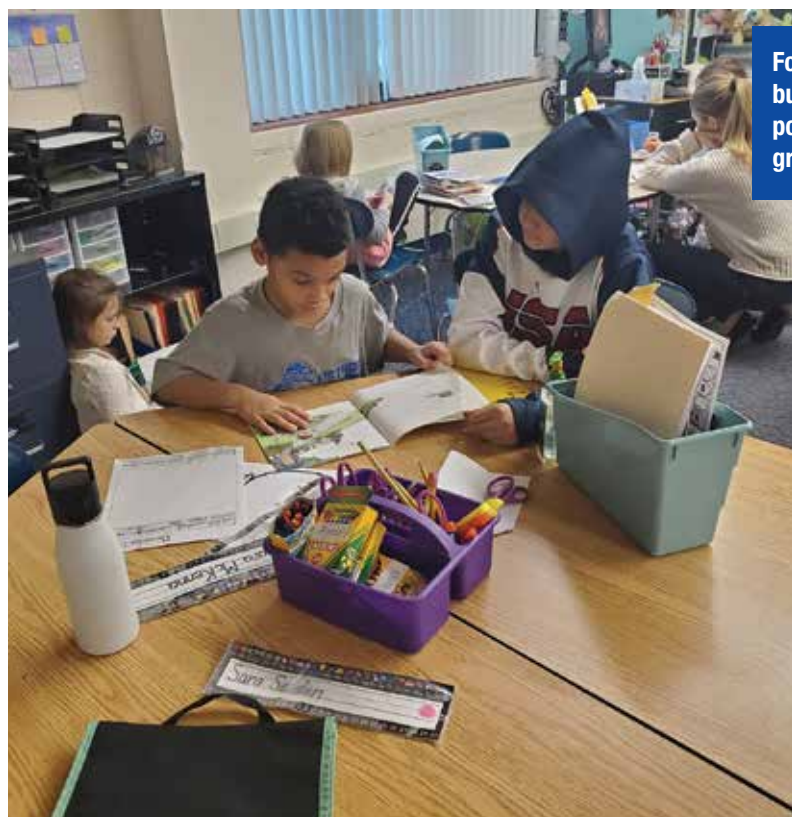

This Round Family group is working together to assemble a puzzle.

First grader Ella enjoys holding a crocodile.

Third graders Lily and Katie enjoy learning about Native American canoes.

Fourth grade buddies support their 1st grade friends.

Third grade friends enjoy Castaway Cafe.

January Village Victor Winners

We are so proud of our Village Victors. It is amazing to see that month over month; our Village Victor winners continue to grow. This month, our winners earned free face painting at the Glow Dance. They worked hard this month as we reviewed our expectations, changed Wise Time groupings and spent time with our reading buddies. Getting back into the groove after such an extended break can be a challenge, but these Villagers helped themselves and others.

- Junior Kindergarten: Jacob Seal and Ava Adams
- Kindergarten: Natalie Coles and Garrett Holiday
- First Grade: Andrew Russano and Lita Cromwell
- Second Grade: Lincoln Harrison and Cameron Simmons
- Third Grade: Griffin Delvecchio and Aliyah Najjar
- Fourth Grade: Eden Rabulsky and Riley Sizemore

Glow Dance and Silent Auction

The Village Glow Dance far surpassed anything that we could have imagined. It was an amazing evening where our entire community came out to celebrate, dance, sing, and have fun. The excitement and joy that was felt by all is definitely something that I will be talking about for the rest of the year. I cannot thank the members of our Village PTO enough for the hours of hard work that they put in to setting up and organizing this fun event. Also, I would like to thank the teachers, high school students and other volunteers that helped the night go off without a hitch. Congratulations to all of the class basket raffle, silent auction and teacher raffle winners. In total our Glow Dance raised $8,000! We cannot wait to Glow again next year!

Be the "I" in Kind

Our Village Occupational Therapist, Jenna Mott, graciously donated this amazing sign to our Village cafeteria to remind our students to Be the "I" in Kind. This year Village teachers are helping our students build their social-emotional awareness through class lessons, Sensei presentations and school-wide expectations. This poster serves as a visual reminder to our students that if they choose to be anything each day, they should choose to be kind.

Part IV: Alternative Ed. After School

Research often supports that extracurricular activities help students learn to:

- Expand or diversify interests
- Manage time and learn to prioritize
- Build friendship, social and team skills
- Enhance self-esteem
- And many more character building traits

There is no after school activity that is more beneficial than another as they all will help our youth learn and grow. Yet the amazing additional benefit of extracurriculars for students is their ability to bolster college applications and personal resumes. Joining clubs, volunteering, working, or participating in a sport is, therefore, a small sample of the myriad of opportunities HCS offers its secondary students.

HCS' commitment to the whole student is visible in its equal commitment to alternative students' inclusion to extracurricular activities. Our district encourages all students to participate in EAGLE life after school, and the demonstration of the district's dedication to student involvement is that LEGACY and HVA students have equal opportunity to join or enjoy any after school activity or social event of their choosing so long as academic and behavioral requirements are met as set forth in secondary student handbook.

In addition to the district wide offerings, LEGACY has an alternative intramural sports program. The athletic program believes as many students as possible should participate in athletics as it creates character and commitment to the school, the team, the community, the student. The program hosts other alternative schools in various sporting competitions and attends state-wide championships.

Alternative Ed, LEGACY and HVA students, experience dances-like homecoming and prom, participate in athletics, travel on field trips, and relish the experience of commencement/graduation.

January Students of the Month

Amber McMaster: Amber is an energetic LEGACY senior who is participating in the Michigan Works Program. She is academically focused and encourages all classmates to do the same with her inviting good nature. Amber's teacher captures her accepting spirit stating "her smile lights up the room," and "she is always willing to engage and include others in discussions." Amber is interested in health occupations and perhaps a career in veterinary tech or grooming. LEGACY will miss her bubbly personality next year, but wishes her the best of luck in her next endeavors.

Nicholas Debol: Nick is a LEGACY senior who has a kind heart and brilliant mind. He enjoys reading and working creatively with trades. He is polite, thoughtful and engaged in studies, which is highlighted by his teachers' reflections that "Nick is deliberate in his responses and his work" and "he wise beyond his years." Nick is currently thinking he will pursue a certification program in a career orientated trade once he graduates. LEGACY knows he will be successful at whichever career path he decides as his meticulous nature is only complimented by his creative ingenuity.

Friends of Cromaine Library

Well, the holidays are over, along with our January Book/Bake Sale. However, the "Friends of Cromaine Library" acknowledged their anniversary (44 years since they originated in 1976) with a gala event. On February 16th at Cromaine Library we celebrated with music, treats, prizes, and of course conversation.

At our January 28th meeting we enjoyed chatting with our new library director, Mallorie DeVilbiss. We also wished Ceci Marlow goodbye and good luck (although we hope she visits Cromaine often). We truly wish her the very best and we want her to know we're here to help if ever she needs it.

Again, I want to mention that the "Friends" have donated $15,000 to Cromaine to help with various activities in 2020. We were able to make this contribution, because of various money-making activities.

Your Friend, Mary Lynn

Welcome to Hartland Preschool!

Hartland Consolidated Schools Preschool is excited to announce the appointment of its new Director, Mrs. Jessica Pasienza. Mrs. Pasienza has nine years of experience in Early Childhood Education and is in her sixth year of teaching. A graduate of Madonna University, she has her Bachelor's Degree in Language Arts accompanied with an Elementary Teaching Certificate and an Early Childhood Endorsement. A lifelong learner, she is currently pursuing her Master's Degree in Early Childhood Education. For three years, Mrs. Pasienza taught first grade, followed by a year of preschool in the Great Start Readiness Program before taking time to be at home with her two daughters. She joined the Hartland Consolidated Schools Preschool Team in 2018 and is excited to bring the experience of being both a teacher and a parent with a child here at HCSP.

Working in collaboration with the Hartland Consolidated Schools Preschool Teachers, District Administrators as well as the Hartland Consolidated School District Curriculum Coaches, Mrs. Pasienza is eager to continue supporting the HCSP Staff through professional development, regular classroom visits, continual development of the academic curriculum she put in place, and most importantly, developing relationships with students and families to provide a strong education for everyone who walks through school doors.

Mrs. Pasienza will also be Co-Directing the Child Care Center alongside Mrs. Terberg. Please see page 14 for further details!

In her spare time she enjoys reading, being outside, and building/painting wood projects with her husband and two school-aged daughters. Welcome and congratulations, Mrs. Pasienza!

Stress in Preschoolers

"My tummy hurts." As parents and teachers, this is a common statement we hear from our children and students. Many times, the ever-common tummy ache is not accompanied by any other symptoms indicating the child is ill. So, what is the likely cause of the belly ache? It's simple. Stress.

As adults, we tend to see the lives of our children as being carefree and easy – after all, they do not have the responsibilities we face of work, home life, paying bills, etc. What many times we do not realize is that children, even preschoolers experience anxiety, ranging from just a speck of uncertainty to a debilitating state. While it's not always easy to recognize when children are stressed out, behavioral changes — such as mood swings, acting out, changes in sleep patterns, or bed wetting — can be indications. A child who is stressed also may overreact to minor problems, defy authority, suck their thumb, have nightmares or become clingy.

For preschoolers, the most common stress factor is separation from parents. For many, attending preschool is the first experience they have in a large group setting (many classes have up to 18 students), without the comfort and safety of Mom or Dad. So not only are they being placed in a brand-new environment, they are surrounded by many other children whom they do not know, with one or two adults whom they've only met perhaps one or two times. Even for adults, experiencing this level of newness can be very scary!

Here at Hartland Consolidated Schools Preschool, it is our goal and mission to provide a loving and caring environment in which your child feels safe. Establishing relationships and trust with students is the number one factor in student success. If a child feels anxious or afraid, the lessons being taught will most likely not be absorbed, and the experience a negative one. Preschool is a vital step in building the foundation of student's educational careers, and as teachers we strive to make their experience one they walk away from feeling successful and proud!

Getting down to their level, taking the time to listen and help students work through their feelings, giving them time to complete tasks at their own individual pace, and parent communication via phone, in person, email or Seesaw (an application used school wide for parent communication) are just a few ways Hartland Preschool Teachers strive to alleviate stress in students.

Additionally, using positive language can be highly beneficial in alleviating stress, especially when it comes to parental separation. Avoiding phrases such as "There's nothing to be afraid of," "Don't be scared," etc. is key in assisting children to handle stress. Using positive terms such as "You will have so much fun," "Your teachers and friends are so excited to see you," etc. can completely change the narrative and direction of your child's feelings.

In this day and age of over scheduling, rushing around and ever-changing technology, the best thing we can give our children is Love, Positive Attention, and Security. As Theodore Roosevelt said, "Nobody cares how much you know, until they know how much you care."

At Hartland Consolidated Schools Preschool, your child's overall care is our number one priority.

Hartland SOUP News!

Once again Hartland SOUP at Winterfest was a success and a first in winnings! The project with the most votes was Hartland High School's Student Pantry and thanks to a $500 grant from the Hartland Foundation, their total was $1,013! The pantry is where any student has access to food to take home during the evenings, weekends and breaks. While their target is students who qualify for free and reduced lunch, no student is turned away. Currently, the pantry is providing weekend meals to approximately 50 students. The meals are packed in cinch sacks and delivered to the students' seventh period class on Fridays to help eliminate hunger over the weekend. The first delivery of the month contains toiletry items like toothpaste, deodorant, soap, etc. This SOUP was different because the funds to match what is brought in at the door, from an anonymous donor, were used to provide funding to the non-winning proposals. The door amount was $513, so Farms Intermediate Highly Capable Cluster, HAYAA Baseball/Softball, and The Dance Project all won $171 each. The Hartland community is continuing to make a difference one $5 bowl of soup, and vote, at a time.

Mark your calendars now for the next Hartland SOUP Thursday, April 23, 2020 at 6:30 PM at Dunham Hills Golf Course.

Can You Find Your Child in this Checklist?

- Rita, age 11, used to be confident...ready to take on the world. But after starting middle school, she seems like a different person—hesitant and unsure of herself.
- Ryan's mom, Becky, worries because Ryan is so easily wounded. Things said to him by the other kids at school hurt his feelings so easily. Ryan's hypersensitivity is a constant source of stress for Becky.
- The peace of the household is frequently disturbed. Everything is a battle: getting ready for school; dinner time; homework; even things that used to be enjoyable family activities are now potential battles. Screaming matches occur on a regular basis.
- Paula is so concerned about being popular. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, worry that this will make her an easy target for negative peer pressure.
- Tyler, age 4, does great when he gets it right the first time when learning something new. When he doesn't get it on the first try, though, he becomes totally frustrated and says "I'll never be able to do it!"
- Mr. and Mrs. Hall are frustrated at the level of disrespect demonstrated by their children. The kids never used to talk like this before! The Halls think, "If I had talked like that when I was a kid, I would have gotten clobbered!"
- Suzanne is constantly down on herself, often saying, "I'm not as pretty as Elizabeth," or "I'll never be popular like Marta".
- Scott used to be a nice, kind child. Lately, though, he has become increasingly aggressive. His parents, Vern and Becky, are concerned. They've already had two calls from the school about Scott's bullying of younger children.
- The teachers say that Charlie can't focus in school, and might need to be medicated. Nicole and Bryan, his parents, hate that idea. They feel that Charlie just needs to learn listening and focus skills. They are frustrated. How can they build the skills Charlie really needs?

If you've "found" your child on the checklist (and most people do!), read on. You just might find the big BREAKTHROUGH you've been seeking for your child!

Dear Fellow Parents,

You're probably thinking "come on...how can punching and kicking improve my child's self confidence, focus and self control?" Well, I'm here to tell you, in many more ways than you can begin to imagine.

I am Sam Larioza, a resident of Fowlerville and father of two wonderful kids. I've spent much of my life teaching and mentoring young people. I've worked with thousands of kids (just like yours!) over the last 25 years.

So, back to the question "How can karate do all this?"

Look at it this way. Your child's first and biggest challenge comes not from "fighting for his rights on the street", or "beating up the neighborhood bully." It comes, instead, from battling more sinister forces. Your child's own fears and self doubts! "I'm not as smart as John." "I'm just not good at math." "I wish I was as (strong, pretty, popular) as Sally." "Why does Jim keep picking on me?"

Well here is the secret: Karate is less about your child learning to fight others, and more about fighting...himself. His innermost fears and self doubts. Conquer them, and your child unleashes within himself a powerful, unstoppable force. A force that gives him the strength to kick down the doors of his own self doubts, a force that opens your child to the exalting power of values and the ability to reach his full potential.

Yours for Rock Solid Kids,
Sensei Sam Larioza
