Superintendent's Message

Janet Sifferman, Superintendent

Thanks to our supportive community, there will be a lot of work happening around the district this summer to complete our third and final phase of the 2010 Bond Issue. Through the fall and winter our engineers and designers have been busy with their part of the project in preparation for the construction crews that will be on site as soon as our students leave for the summer.

There will be roof work done at Lakes, Farms, Village and Hartland Middle School. Security entrances will be built at Round and Creekside. There will be new ceiling tiles installed at Village and the middle school, as well as new carpeting placed in the corridors at the middle school. Mechanical work will be done at the Hartland Educational Support Service Center and Hartland High School and district-wide technology work will also be ongoing.

Children learn better when they are in facilities that support education. We are appreciative that our community values education and wants their children in pleasant, updated classrooms and buildings. Thank you for your support. On another note, don't forget our important non-homestead renewal election on May 8. You will see more about this in the April issue of Community Life.

Foundation Grants Available

The Heartland and the Hartland Consolidated Schools' Foundations will again accept grant applications from individuals or organizations for projects to benefit the quality of life for residents residing within the Hartland Consolidated Schools' boundaries. It is not required that grant applications refer to a school program or have an education-based agenda. The Heartland Foundation was conceived more than half a century ago by J. Robert Crouse, Sr. as an additional funding tool for the Hartland Area Project, and its mission to provide enrichment opportunities for the residents of the Hartland area. Consequently, these two foundations have awarded grants for a wide range of programs benefiting senior citizens, veterans' groups, various artistic and literary endeavors, as well as the students and families of the Hartland Schools district. Applications are available at the Administration Office, 9525 Highland Road, Howell, between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. The deadline for submission of the application is April 25, 2012.

What's for Lunch?

Terri Sincock, Director of Food Service

With all the press about school lunch the Hartland Food Service staff would like to assure parents that we are offering your students healthy choices. With the release of the new Nutrition Standards for school lunch that came out last week we are proud to state that we have very little to do to meet these new guidelines. We have been offering students fresh fruits, vegetables and whole grains, for many years. Starting in the 2006/07 school year we transformed our Elementary Salad Bars into Fruit & Veggie Bars, which offers 5 different fresh vegetables, 2-3 fresh fruits which may include: pears, watermelon chunks & grapes, canned fruits packed in juice or lite syrup, and only 100 % Fruit juice. In addition we have offered several new hot vegetables with our meals such as Sweet Potatoes, Acorn Squash, Brussel Sprouts, Asparagus and most recently Parsnips. Our K-12 Whole Grain program started in 2008 w/ 95% of our bread selections meeting the USDA Whole Grain criteria. Milk offered for the past eight years has been 1% White & Chocolate along with White Skim Milk. This year we have 1% & Fat Free White along with Fat Free Chocolate (don't tell the students).

Get the Nutritional Facts about the elementary lunch choices at the Hartland Consolidated Schools Web page under the Food Service Link, and then choose Elementary Nutritional Information.

If you are in the buildings check out the New My Plate posters promoting healthier choices located in all cafeterias with the burning question of "What's on Your Plate?" As always if you have any question about what is offered for lunch contact the Food Service Department directly. Parents are encouraged to come and join their student for lunch. Elementary parents can enjoy a school meal by calling into your students' building by 9:15am with your lunch choice.

Hartland Coalitions: Connecting, Communicating and Caring

Next meeting March 8

Did you know that an adolescent is four times more likely to develop a substance use problem if start using drugs/alcohol between the ages of 13 and 15 years of age?

Did you know that parents are the #1 influence in your child's life?

Availability, Accessibility, and Acceptance can make a big impact on the role your child will play on alcohol and drug use.

Availability- Is the drug available in our community? An example of availability is if someone could purchase K-2 (synthetic marijuana) right here in our own community.

Accessibility- would be leaving your RX medications out on a counter or in a cabinet for anyone (or your own children) to take out of your home.

Acceptance- Parents allowing underage drinking to go on in their own home. To host a party to underage drinking. To take the keys away from teenagers and allowing them to drink in your home. Or to give the message that a little beer won't hurt.

Here are ways to Connect to your Community:

The Hartland Coalitions next meeting is Thursday March 8 from 6:30-8:00pm in room #47 in the Hartland Community Education Building. Contact Anne King Hudson for more information akh@keycenters.org

Parent's as Partners in Prevention is looking for parents/adults in joining and planning parent education and awareness activities.

Red Barrel Campaign- Keep your children and community safe. Dispose of your unused medications in a barrel at any of the Livingston county Police stations. No questions asked. For more information www.neversaynevermi.com

Martin Luther King Jr. Poster Contest

On January 16, we celebrated Martin Luther King, Jr. day. Every year at Hartland High School, there is a contest held to design a poster to commemorate the day. This year's theme was communication with several activities planned at the high school that included a guest speaker and a special video that was shown. There was also a banner made to hang in the commons depicting the theme of communication. This year's winners for the poster contest were: 1st Place, Courtney Phelps, freshman, 2nd place, Shelby Johns, freshman and 3rd place, Marissa Barkley, junior. Congratulations, ladies!

Seniors Shine at Poetry Event

"If I read a book and it makes my whole body so cold no fire can ever warm me, I know that is poetry." ~ Emily Dickinson

High school students and lovers of language gathered January 31 at the Cromaine Library to compete in the national poetry recitation contest known as "Poetry Out Loud". The contest involves students in grades nine through twelve who choose two pieces of poetry from the Poetry Out Loud Anthology. Each participant then recites the two pieces as a panel of judges rates on the criteria of performance, voice, level of difficulty and accuracy of the recitation.

After two rounds of poems and scoring, Senior Lexee Barrera took top honors from the judges, which included two Hartland English teachers, a librarian and a theatre director. Lexee will go on to compete for the state competition at Saginaw Valley State University on March 9 and 10. Winners at the state competition will earn $200.00 cash and an all-expense paid trip to Washington D.C. for national finals. At the national level, winners vie for a top prize of a $20,000 college scholarship.

Along with winner Lexee, four other senior girls participated. Second Place honors went to Rhianna Dilworth and third place was awarded to Sarah Wallace. Tori Cothran and Leena Shah were finalists. All five girls are members of the high school forensics team, which competes around southern Michigan in various oratorical events. The Poetry Out Loud contest was a kick-off to this year's season which begins February 18 with a tournament in North Branch.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day is always a celebrated event at Hartland High School, and this year was no exception. Students in the eleventh grade A.P. Composition and Language course worked together assembling a film montage portraying images related to this year's theme of communication. Dynamically compiled, this eight-minute video consisted of Youtube clips and audio recording of supportive HHS teachers explaining the importance of effective communication skills and how a person becomes an effective communicator.

A special guest entertained the student body, teaching them the importance of effective and compelling communication. Mr. Ivory Williams, an inspirational storyteller, enraptured his audience utilizing numerous vibrant African-styled anecdotes and songs, urged his audience to, "Take two seconds to think before responding." Successfully eternalizing the event, a large banner, which students were encouraged to sign as a pledge to forever be effective communicators, was hung in the HHS Commons.

Students Of The Month

Each month, a selection committee at Hartland Middle School selects one seventh and one eighth grade student to receive recognition as "Students of the Month." Nominated students must meet one or more of the following criteria in order to be selected.

- The student must show continued success in all subjects
- The student must exhibit good citizenship
- The student must make a significant positive contribution to the school and others

Ore Creek Students Shine at State Forensic Tournament

Six members of the Hartland Middle School forensic team traveled to White Pine Middle School in Saginaw for the Fall State Tournament. They competed against over 300 other middle school students in various public speaking and interpretive events.

Congratulations to eighth grade students Brenna Rosso who placed third in Extemporaneous Speaking and Hannah Enderle who was a semi-finalist in Poetry. Seventh grade student Ray Kennedy was also a semi-finalist in the category of Sales.

Coach Doni Dilworth who is the chairman of the Michigan Interscholastic Forensics Association Middle Level Committee and co-directed the Fall State tournament commented, "This group of students shows a great deal of motivation and talent. Even though we went on break after Fall States, several of the students are still practicing and finding pieces for Spring States and for the National tournament. Their hard work is very impressive!"

Student Council News

Submitted by Student Council Officers

In January and February, the HMS Student Council collected coins and bills for the American Red Cross Penny Drive. Pennies counted as positive points and silver coins and bills were negative (as classes competed for who could collect the most money). In February, we promoted the Hearts and Flowers sale for Valentine's Day. We sold them during lunch and delivered them on February 14th. We also hosted our Valentine's Dance. All of these were a huge success.

Student Council Officers: Ellen Harper, Secretary; Anna Lin, Treasurer; Allie Darish, Vice President; Sophia Rizzo, President.

Students proudly display their "team bucks" that can be used for class rewards.

Giving Thanks

With winter in full swing and the hum drum of the season it's nice to remember some of the things to be thankful for. Hartland is a school district that still thinks highly of the "essentials" our kids attend outside of the classroom. Each day consists of one of four areas: Physical Education, Media Center, Art & Music. What they learn in each of these is in essence, an "essential" part of creating a well rounded student and equipping each child with skills that last a life time. At Creekside we are thankful that as times change and budgets get cut, we are still creating a full experience for the students. In the Media Center they work on character education focusing on a character word of the month. For example February was honesty; they looked at the life of Abraham Lincoln, and reflected on their own lives and how to make decisions that involve integrity. They also work on information seeking through many technologies that are available to them. In P.E. they are nurtured on enjoyment and appreciation of physical activity while having positive interactions, attitudes and values promoted and of course, how to work as a team. There is so much that goes into creating a well rounded student that is carried with them for a lifetime and just one more thing to be thankful that having these essentials is a part of the every day life for the students at Creekside. Thank you to Mrs. Millington, Mrs. Miller, Mr. Migliore & Mr. Rockafellow for enriching the lives of our Creekside students each day!

First graders enjoy hula hooping and shooting baskets in P.E.

Books are always exciting fun to share with a friend.

Concentrating on tracing is a big part of creating a masterpiece.

Third graders make home made instruments. The woodwind family is well represented

Home made drums is a great addition for the percussion group.

First grader Benjamin Smith and fourth grader Cameron Roach enjoy a great book together as reading buddies. Mrs. Albert's fourth grade students get together once a week with Mrs. Haar's first grade students to read to one another and work on projects together. Awesome friendships are developed along with great reading and writing skills!

Our very own Lakes Recycling Team works hard at collecting paper products (as well as plastic bottles) every week as part of our recycling program and also as part of our Michigan Green Schools process. Lakes has been designated as an Evergreen School for the last two years, which is the highest award that can be earned. Thanks to our team: fourth grader safeties, Lindsey Strutz, Mya Reynolds, Zackary Fisher, Nick Fritch, Samantha Martino, Logan Dittmar, Adrianna Jesik, Cristian Kalaj, and Nolan Campbell.

Mrs. Furr's expert first graders finished their non-fiction writing unit by celebrating with a non-fiction museum. Teachers and students from other classes at Lakes visited their museum and the writers answered questions about the books they had written. Pictured here, Mr. Foster listens attentively as Alaina Barringer explains her writing, while first graders Dylan Neuer and Aubrey Glowacki explain their books to interested fourth graders Eric Reed and Nena Anderer.

Lakes students enjoyed a fabulous production written and performed by Mrs. Keskes' Theater students from Hartland High School in January. They wrote and performed skits at our school, developed from Lakes Kids Care and recycling themes. This was their final production for the semester, and the Lakes community greatly appreciates their efforts just for our students.

810.626.2800

The first half of the school year was full of excitement and educational experiences at Round Elementary School. The addition of our Literacy Blocks has been a tremendous success in helping students improve and build upon their literacy knowledge. Adding to that the 4th, 2nd, and 3rd grade classes wrapped up the 1st half of their Accelerated Reader Competition program with a Super Bowl competition. Students showed big improvement in reading over the course of the semester. We are really proud for their hard work and dedication to the program and their reading. During the football season our students read more than 25 million words. For Board of Education Appreciation Month, Round School presented a school wide picture and a children's book to Hartland's Board of Education. The highlight was members of the Round School staff singing a song for the Board. It was really impressive!!! Round Elementary School thanks the Board of Education for all the support in our students educational success. Round also hosted author Kristy Short for an anti-bullying assembly. It was called "Operation Nice" and it gave an important message to our students. We would like to thank all staff, parents, and community members that make Round Elementary School and wonderful place to be!

Students form a dancing line to celebrate their promise of being nice to others.

Author Kristy Short speaks to Round School students as part of her "Operation Nice" assembly.

Round School's Accelerated Reader wall keeps track of student progress through their reading competition.

Author Kristy Short dances with Round School students at the conclusion of the anti-bullying assembly.

Team MVP's and Team Captains are rewarded each week and pictures are displayed on the wall.

Doug Scheer engages with students and interactively teaches about fairness, awareness, including others and respect through his anti-bullying assemblies.

The Village PTO sponsored "Family Dinner & A Movie Night." Families got settled in for the feature presentation "Gnomeo & Juliet" after filling up on a delicious dinner of pizza, salad and breadsticks.

LEGACY High School*Kirk Evenson, Principal

Tuesday, January 24 was a half day for the high school, but staff members still had work to do – on the court. That evening the Community Education Center opened up the gym for the all-staff volleyball tournament. Teams arrived for warm-ups at 4:30pm, and at 5pm the teams took to the courts. Farms, Creekside, Transportation, Middle School, the High School, and LEGACY were all represented. Each team was guaranteed four games. At the end of regular bracket play one semifinal had Farms vs. Transportation while the other had the High School face-off against LEGACY. At 7pm the finals were set: Team Farms vs. Team LEGACY.

Farms Intermediate had t-shirts that said “Bring It” and they followed through, it was BROUGHT. Congratulations to Farms Intermediate Schools and their MVP (MVP of the tournament) Principal Mikki Cheney for winning this year’s inter-school volleyball tournament!

Thanks for everyone’s support. LEGACY raised $400.00 in this event.

Elder Law Attorneys Specialize in Helping the Elderly

Many elderly persons rely entirely on their children, family members or other trusted individuals to help them. This dependence upon caregivers or family members makes an older person more vulnerable to abuse and financial exploitation. Legal arrangements and protective actions by family may be necessary to shield loved ones from making bad decisions or from being taken advantage of.

Though you wouldn't think a child could take advantage of his or her mother or father, there is no way to know what someone will do who is desperate for money or who feels entitled to an inheritance. For example:

David's parents' health was failing and living alone in their home was becoming a concern. His sister Jill wanted to look into assisted living for them. David immediately became upset at Jill for wanting to spend their money. He packed up his parents and brought them to his home. Being single and working, he was not available to them during the day, but left food and water on the table to sustain them until he returned home in the evening. Jill lived over 300 miles from David and when she could get to his house to visit; she found her parents' care was not acceptable. They could not remember if they took their medications or if they had even eaten a meal that day. David was also draining their savings account and when confronted about it, became angry and complained that he needed their money to pay expenses for their care. Clearly Jill felt her brother's care of their parents was abusive, but David's defense was he provided a home for his parents in which he could care for them. This family needs a professional advisor to help them understand and clarify the issues concerning their parents' care.

Making legal decisions about property, finances, power of attorney, and final wishes are important tasks to complete for the final years of life. Having legal documentation for a will, for medical treatment and for the person designated to be responsible for parents' welfare can avoid family disputes and financial abuse, and help to conserve assets that are needed for care.

Elder law attorneys specialize in legal issues affecting the elderly. They are knowledgeable about Medicare and Medicaid programs. They work with the elderly in assisting them and their families with all aspects of estate planning and implementing necessary legal documents for the final years of life. In addition, they help individuals to apply for and possibly accelerate coverage from Medicaid. An elder law attorney can also help with disputes with Medicaid. Below is a partial list of what an elder law attorney might do:

- Preservation or transfer of assets seeking to avoid spousal impoverishment when a spouse enters a nursing home
- Medicaid qualification and application and Medicaid planning strategies

- Medicare claims and appeals
- Veterans Benefits claims
- Social security and disability claims and appeals
- Disability planning, including use of durable powers of attorney, living trusts and living wills
- Help with financial management and health care decisions; and other means of delegating management and decision-making to another in case of incompetence or incapacity
- Probate
- Administration and management of trusts and estates
- Long term care placements in nursing homes and assisted living
- Nursing home issues with patients' rights and nursing home quality
- Elder abuse and fraud recovery cases

Most elder law attorneys do not specialize in all of the areas iterated above. When considering an attorney you will want to find one who has experience in the area you need help.

Ask lots of questions before selecting an elder law attorney. You don't want to end up in the office of an attorney who can't help you. Start with the initial phone call. It is not unusual to speak only to a secretary, receptionist or office manager during an initial call or before actually meeting with the attorney. If so, ask this person your questions.

- How long has the attorney been in practice?
- Does his/her practice emphasize a particular area of law?
- How long has he/she been in this field?
- What percentage of his/her practice is devoted to elder law?
- Is there a fee for the first consultation and if so, how much is it?
- Given the nature of your problem, what information should you bring with you to the initial consultation?

A good way to choose an attorney is by referral from friends, family, clergy or other associations. Before you meet for your initial consultation, prepare the items you want discussed and taken care of. Bring pertinent documents and questions. Be sure you get clear answers and that you understand what your attorney is proposing.

Two-way communication is the best way your attorney can understand your needs and concerns. Does the attorney listen to what you say, appear to really care about your concerns or return your phone calls? If not find another attorney. Most Elder law Attorneys sincerely want to help make you or your parent's elder years a well planned for, peaceful experience for all involved.

Chronic Disease Self-Management:

The Key to Better Health is in Your Hands

Anyone who has a chronic illness like arthritis, asthma, diabetes, emphysema, heart disease or other condition knows how challenging it can be. Chronic illness can affect every part of our lives – the way our bodies look and feel, the activities we can enjoy, the costs of medications and doctor visits, the emotions we experience and more. No matter what chronic health conditions we have, what we do to help ourselves is very important. We can choose to do nothing, and let the disease consume our lives, or we can work to take control of our condition before it controls us. We can learn about our disease, keep informed about our progress, take part in our treatment plan, communicate with our health care team, stay optimistic and open to new ideas. People with chronic diseases can learn better self-management skills through PATH.

PATH is a chronic disease self-management program that can serve people with heart disease, lung disease, diabetes, arthritis and more. A PATH workshop will be held at the Hartland Senior Center. The program consists of six, 2 hour sessions and will meet on Thursdays at 12:30 p.m. March 8, 15, 22, 29 and April 5 and April 19. This class is sponsored by the National Kidney Foundation and will be facilitated by Kathy Bradbury. Please call the Hartland Senior Center to register or for more information. # Flash from the Friends

Friends of the Cromaïne Library

The 'Friends' of Cromaïne District Library are loaded with thank you's for everyone who helped to make our mid-winter Book Sale a huge success. It takes a lot of very special people to co-ordinate a sale, but most Friends agree that it is a lot of fun to work together for a very worthwhile cause. Of course, all profits go to benefit the Cromaïne Library.

We hope everyone enjoyed our Week of Romance which included free romance paperback books to all library patrons.

We are planning an Appreciation Luncheon in March to honor our wonderful staff. If you would like to help, please call Mary Lynn Thomson at 810.229.7356.

Our next Friends meetings will be held on April 17, July 17 and October 16 which is always quarterly on the third Tuesday of the month. Our meetings are a combination of business and pleasure. Please join us. Being a Friend is a great adventure... something new happens almost everyday. For information, ask a staff member at the Village or Crossroads.

Pickleball – Ages 8 and up

Instructor – Jan Doke

Pickleball is a racquet sport which combines elements of badminton, tennis and table tennis. The sport is played on a court with the same dimensions as a doubles badminton court. The net is similar to a tennis net, but is mounted two inches lower. The game is played with a hard paddle and a wiffle ball. Pickleball is similar to tennis, but the speed of the pickleball ball is slower which typically moves at one-third of the average speed of a tennis ball. The court is just under one-third of the total area of a tennis court. This smaller area combined with the slower moving ball makes pickleball much easier to play than tennis.

Eagle Scout Award To Be Presented

Boy Scout Troop 383 of Hartland, chartered to Hartland United Methodist Church, is proud to announce that Andrew D. Michaud has earned the rank of Eagle Scout. Andrew is the son of David and Laura Michaud of Fenton.

Andrew earned 29 merit badges, had 95 volunteer hours, 89 nights camping and is also a member of the Order of the Arrow. His Eagle project was comprised of building and installing a dock along Ore Creek. This dock will be used by the Environmental Science and Ecology classes at Hartland High School. Andrew is currently attending Hartland High School and intends to attend college in Michigan.

Andrew joins other outstanding American citizens who have become Eagle Scouts, among them former President Gerald R. Ford, Jr., astronaut Neil A. Armstrong, cinematographer Steven Spielberg, and the former head of the F.B.I., William Sessions.

Lakes' Cub Scout Pack 385

Hopefully, it's not too early to say ... WELCOME SPRING! Scouts in Pack 385 continue to make great progress through each den's ranks and achievements. As you can see from this snapshot, our Minute to Win It pack meeting was great fun! We also said goodbye to our WEBELOS II as they crossed over to Boy Scouts at the Blue and Gold Banquet last month. Our highly anticipated Pinewood Derby is coming up this month and will once again prove to be a huge success. Last month we also had Scout Swim Day at the Hartland Pool, went to an EMU Basketball game and some dens helped out by sponsoring games at Lakes Elementary's Family Fun Fest event. Next month, most of the remaining Scouts will crossover to the next rank, and they are all currently working very hard to do so. As you can tell, we learn, contribute and have a lot of fun! If you would like to join Pack 385 (or have your parents help out in a den), contact Cindy Andersen with any questions (810-360-0660). See you in Scouting!

Drawing on the beloved novel by Mark Twain, Dave Barton and Matt Bond have brought a fresh simplicity to the well-known story of Tom Sawyer, his friends and the adults in their lives. All the famous adventures are included, climaxing with the life-or-death battle with Injun Joe in the cave. Musical numbers, including the show-stopping "Paintin' the Fence," advance the plot and are vastly entertaining.

It is a timeless story brought to life by our talented cast: Scott Bell, RJ Bortle, Morgan Brady, Jessica Cummings, Bella D'Arcy, Jaclyn Ellis, Sophie Flatt, Mollie Kiser, Jenna Koch, Jackie Kochan, Ben Koehler, Noah Koehler, Annika Kreeger, Lauren Kreeger, Olivia Lipon, Mackenzie Marshall, Miya Mattucci, Emma McIntyre, Kelli Neal, Jordyn Pair, Asher Pedley, Isaac Pedley, Katie Peterson, Morgan Peterson, Noah Race, McKenna Sabon, Alanna Schiavone, Trevor Schultz, Zoe Shettler, Madelynn Stuenkel, and Ryann Swann.
