Superintendent's Corner

Chuck Hughes, Superintendent

 @hartlandschools

Welcome to 2020! The school year is moving right along as our high school students finished their first semester under the new calendar scenario. As I visit district buildings and talk to students and staff, it seems that this new schedule is viewed as a positive move by the district. Any time change is initiated, it creates some apprehension. Thank you for sticking with us as we try to find the best options for student learning, which at times requires thinking differently.

Did you know?

Did you know that if the recommended bond proposal to be placed before the Hartland voters on May 5, 2020 is approved by the Board of Education to move forward and then approved by the community, our elementary schools will experience remodeling of the current media center and technology lab spaces to accommodate a Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM)/collaboration center space? With the addition of these instructional environments, we will be able to engage students in the development of critical skills necessary for success in careers that require employees to be proficient in problem-solving, working with others and creative thinking. If the bond passes, it may allow the district to free up money from the general fund to hire STEM teachers for each of these spaces, allowing the district to add a fourth specials teacher who can support teachers in the STEM disciplines. A fourth special will alleviate large sections where teachers are currently teaching more than one general education classroom of students at a time. This becomes a win-win for the students of Hartland Schools.

Optimist Adopt-A-Family Update

Thank you to the Hartland Optimist Club, Hartland Junior Optimist Club and to the clubs, sports teams, families, businesses, classrooms and individuals who sponsored a family during the holiday season. Together we were able to support more than 70 families. This support ensured that children were able to experience a wonderful Christmas with presents and meals. The generosity of our community continues to impress me year after year. Our school family did a canned good food drive and we were fortunate to get several thousand cans. HHS collected around 2,500 and FIS 2,430. Mr. Chris Anderson, 6th grade teacher at FIS collected 872 cans in his classroom. Together we make a difference in the lives of our Hartland families.

A special thank you to Mrs. Meghan Glabach for chairing this effort. Without her determination to take care of our children, the impact would certainly be less.

January 2020 Person of the Month: Sandy Enderle

I have been employed with the Student Nutrition Department at Hartland Schools for the past 10 years. However, I have been in the district for 19 years.

My husband transplanted me from Nashville, Tennessee in 1993. We were looking for a nice community to raise kids and found Hartland to be the perfect choice. I've been married to Mark for 27 years and we have raised

2 beautiful daughters, Taylor and Hannah, in this community. Both girls started and finished school here and we lived and loved every minute of it. From Girl Scout leader to Room Mom to Team Mom, I feel like we've done it all. We took pride in always being there for them.

My most memorable and proud moment was obviously seeing them both graduate as "Hartland Eagles" and go on to be accomplished young adults. Taylor is married to Mitch Simpson, currently serving in the Navy in Japan, and Hannah is finishing her degree while working a job in sales.

I am still here because of the sense of community that this small town has always had. You never meet someone from here that you can't learn something from.

My positive thought about Hartland Schools is the warmth and love I feel every single day. Once you are Hartland family, you are always Hartland family. This was proven to me when Jana Lindahl, Hannah's kindergarten teacher came to her graduation party to wish her well. The teachers and staff care about you to the end! It would be hard to find that commitment anywhere but Hartland.

Find Your Voice with Hartland's Newest Community Project

Project Voice Box is a community organization run by HHS students to help encourage and promote a love of writing and public speaking. The program had its kickoff in November, hosting the first session for Farms students. At the free workshops, students in grades 5-6 got to try their hand at various types of poetry, then learn how to give a compelling performance by working with high school mentors. After two days of hard work, students performed in front of parents and peers while enjoying refreshments.

The program was created by HHS juniors, Rachel Hatfield and Meghan Kilbane, along with HHS English teacher Kent Wabel. They hope to make the program a long-standing institution in Hartland and to expand to students at Ore Creek. The next sessions begin in January, with a focus on fiction and short stories.

Farewell Jill Fons!

For the past 28 years, Jill Fons has been devoted to the success of the Hartland Transportation Department. She began her career as a driver, then moved on to become a dispatcher, and for the last 18 years she has served as our transportation supervisor. Jill has developed our district's transportation department into a premier transportation department in Livingston County. Every day she brings 110% to her job and constantly works to improve the services we provide our students and community. During her tenure, Jill supervised our buses as they traveled approximately 11 million miles while transporting 81,000 students to and from school.

The safety of our students has always been Jill's top priority. Jill believes that in transportation our job is to safely transport students and prepare them each day for learning; and she is correct. Through that motto she has focused our training and drivers' continuing education on making sure that when students get off our buses in the morning they are ready to give it their all in the classroom. Jill truly embodies what Hartland is about—community. Hartland is an amazing community of caring, talented and creative individuals all focused on every student's success.

We are all so grateful to have had the opportunity to work with Jill for all of these years. We wish her the very best in her well-deserved retirement! Thank you Jill, for your dedicated service to Hartland Consolidated Schools!

Jill cleaning out her files.

From the Counseling Office: All Seniors Are Encouraged To File For Financial Aid

Hartland High School is aiming for the senior class to have a 100% completion rate of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). It has been proven that students who fill out the FAFSA are more likely to follow through on their post-secondary plans, and many schools no longer give out merit scholarships to students who do not apply for financial aid through the FAFSA.

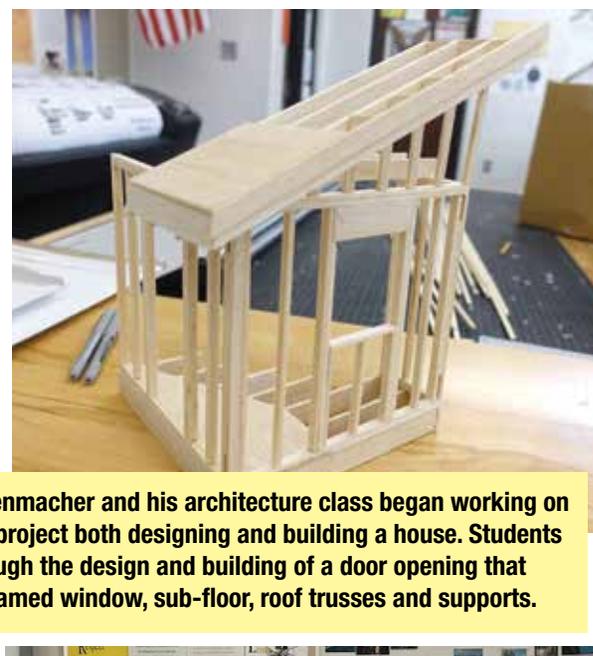

If you have not yet applied for financial assistance, it's not too late. Students/parents should go to www.fafsa.gov to complete their application. The process is free and can make a tremendous difference in your child's ability to pay for their postsecondary education. In order to encourage FAFSA completion, the high school Counseling Office has partnered with Buffalo Wild Wings. Any senior who has completed their FAFSA is eligible for free wings! Seniors should stop by the Counseling Office for more information.

Parents who are looking for additional resources to help pay for their child's post-secondary education should know that the HS Counseling Office publishes a monthly scholarship newsletter called the Scholarship Gazette. The newsletter contains all of our current scholarship applications and contains a list of sites that will help you conduct scholarship searches. Go to <http://www.hartland-highschool.us/Counseling/Financial-Aid-and-Scholarships/index.html> for this month's scholarship information.

Dr. Matt Assenmacher and his architecture class began working on a two-week project both designing and building a house. Students were led through the design and building of a door opening that included a framed window, sub-floor, roof trusses and supports.

Mr. Dan Aldred welcomed Livingston County Staff Mr. William Valliencourt Jr., Prosecuting Attorney, and Ms. Angela DeVero, Assistant Prosecutor, into his Law and Criminal Justice classes. Ms. DeVero and Mr. Valliencourt talked about the process of trying cases of all different types through the judicial system within the county. Students took a field trip to the Livingston County Jail two weeks ago and were able to sit in on a court session run by Ms. DeVero. She referenced the case, highlighting her plan of action to prosecute the individual. Students were also able to ask questions about how to become a lawyer and their individual process for preparing for a trial.

Hartland High School's new choir teacher, Bailey Shepherd, showcased her students' beautiful voices in the annual holiday choir concert held at the former high school. It was a fabulous show of all choirs, and included multiple pieces sung in foreign languages. Students and Ms. Shepherd did a fantastic job! Well done!

In late November, the HHS Student Council held its first Mock Rock in the high school auditorium. Eight groups of students and one staff group performed short lip-sync songs coupled with full dance moves. The winning group of HHS boy's cross-country runners earned $500 for an excellent boy-band impersonation that including choreographed dance moves. Congratulations to all groups who were brave enough to perform!

Ms. Jami Waddle and her American Sign Language III Honors students visited four Creekside Elementary classrooms to teach students a little about sign language. Students worked in small groups to teach basic signs, which the students loved! This is a yearly field trip that both the high school and elementary students love!

Author, Aaron Zenz Visits Village

On November 14, author and illustrator Aaron Zenz came to VES to speak with our students about the power of creativity and ingenuity. Zenz draws a lot of inspiration from his own family and children and their thoughts and ideas. Our students were rapt as Zenz developed characters from scribbles made by Village students. His visit sparked a lot of inspiration across our building.

We Welcomed a New Mascot—Meet Hedgy!

For years, the Village vestibule has been home to Spike our local village hedgehog. We are pleased to welcome him to Village and love the fact that he comes with festive accessories for each season.

Village Collects Thousands of Items for Troops

This year, Village Elementary decided to partner with VFW post #4357 to gather supplies for our troops both stateside and abroad. We received overwhelming support from our students and their families. We collected supplies over the course of a month. In total, we donated 2,498 items. The classes that donated the largest number of items were: Mrs. Ross's class (779), Mrs. Camilleri's class (225) and Mrs. Haaseth's class (195). I know that there will be many happy veterans this holiday season because of the generosity of our Village families. Thank you for all that you do, and thank you for helping your student understand the importance of giving back. Please congratulate the members of Mrs. Ross's class who earned their bagel party on November 22nd. Also, I would like to say thank you to Mrs. Ross for her tireless organization and management of this tremendous event.

Part II: Taking a Closer Look at LEGACY

LEGACY High School was established in 1982 and has served students of Hartland Consolidated Schools for almost four decades. Much like HHS has grown and moved buildings throughout the years, so too has LEGACY. It once operated from what is now the Hartland Child Care Center (51 building). Today, LEGACY enjoys residency in the Hartland Educational Support Services Center (HESSC). No matter its location, LEGACY prides itself in creating the communal and family like atmosphere many students need to find success.

LEGACY offers:

- Programming that earns an HCS diploma
- Small classroom environments
- School-wide social emotional programming
- Michigan Merit Exam including SAT and Work Keys preparation and testing

LEGACY's Annual Thanksgiving Day Feast

LEGACY's annual Thanksgiving Day Feast was a delicious success! Coinciding with our social emotional programming focus, the celebration was the capstone of our month long Attitude of Gratitude. Students, staff and guests shared a wonderful meal prepared by central kitchen. HCS' School Board members graciously offered to serve during the feast. This tradition is a warm reminder of Hartland's caring collective. The Feast truly is a LEGACY all its own!

October Students of the Month

Dylan Brock: Dylan is a LEGACY senior who develops a positive student body culture because he "takes pride in our school." He is quiet yet as teachers note, "confident and communicates very effectively which may surprise... because he may appear checked out, but then chimes with perfection." Dylan is willing to try new tasks and take academic risks. He challenges himself and classmates to do their best.

Marques Hutcherson: Marques is a LEGACY junior whose charisma and friendly smile greets everyone from community members and preschoolers, to central office staff. Teachers note that he is "dependable and impresses because he refuses to compromise his values to fit in." Marques is determined to succeed and works hard every day. Classmates adore his sense of humor and caring demeanor. He has a flare for design and is leaning toward a future in the trades. In the meantime, LEGACY is privileged to have Marques—a leader of reason, respect and responsibility modeling for current and future students.

November Students of the Month

Hannah Metcalf: Hannah is a LEGACY senior who also takes pride in her education and her school. She is incredibly creative and her teachers reveal a bit of a "perfectionist." She develops inspired pieces of art and offers unique perspectives to classroom assignments. Hannah's imagination flourishes in her after-school job at a local bakery where her culinary craftiness is magazine worthy. She aims to turn this high school job into a college major and then a career whereby she may one day open a confectionery all her own.

Trinity Fanos: Trinity is a LEGACY senior whose persistence and focus culminates in early graduation this December. She is academically engaged and her teachers praise that she is "eager to be involved and finish her work." Trinity's demeanor is one that is "always willing to help anyone" and aligns beautifully to the disposition of a caregiver. As she leaves LEGACY's campus, she joins the CNA class at M-Tec, Mott Community College campus. Our staff knows she is a perfect fit for this new adventure and will be an excellent caretaker.

Updates From the Hartland Area Community Council

Two really wonderful projects made our Hartland Area Community Council proud in December! Wreaths across Hartland, led by Barbara Krueger with many donations from local businesses and individuals, put 150 wreaths with bright red bows on the graves of veterans in the Hartland Cemetery and on gates and fences at Parshallville and Hodge. December 1st, the crew of American Legion Post 415 and the Legion Auxiliary, along with lots of folks who just care, were out tying on red bows and laying wreaths. Then Friday, December 6th, HACC held its first Community Tree Lighting at the Hartland Music Hall. Cocoa, cookies, a round of Jingle Bells and the sound effects of true sleigh bells added to the great cheer when the two front evergreen trees were light with bright colorful bulbs. About 50 people, including lots of children, came out for the event. New officers for 2020 were elected at the December meeting: President, Cliff Schiesel; Vice President, Barbara Krueger; Treasurer, Larry Ciofu returning and Marge Scheffler, Secretary. Please join the newly elected officers and all residents and organizations who are interested in making the Hartland area an even more of a great place to work and play at the January 6, 2020 meeting. It will be held at 6:30 PM in the Media Center of the Hartland Middle School at Ore Creek on Hartland Road, across from the Fire Hall. Planning begins for Memorial Day Parade 2020!

CROMAINE DISTRICT LIBRARY ANNOUNCES NEW LIBRARY DIRECTOR

MALLORIE DEVILBISS

Hartland's Cromaine Library has named a new Library Director, the Board of Trustees announced Wednesday, December 4, 2019. Mallorie DeVilbiss, who has served as the Head of Digital Services at Troy Public Library for the past five years, was selected as Director of Cromaine Library at the Library's Special Board Meeting on November 20, 2019.

According to the library, DeVilbiss has also served as the Youth Programming and Web Librarian for Harris County Public Library (TX). She received degrees from Vanderbilt University and the University of Michigan School of Information.

Nancy Lewis, Board President said, "The Trustees are excited to bring Mallorie on board. She has big shoes to fill but we are confident she is going to lead us forward."

Mallorie sees the library of the future becoming a community hub with access to traditional library sources, but also a gathering spot for the community to come together where there is no barrier to entry or use. She believes that programming, outreach, and continuing to offer innovative services are the key to keeping the library relevant and extending its reach into the community.

The Library will host a public reception for DeVilbiss at the Library, 3688 N. Hartland Road, on Thursday, January 23 from 6:30 to 8:00 pm.

DeVilbiss is a Michigan native, born and raised in Kalamazoo and currently living in metro Detroit with her husband and their two cats and one dog. She enjoys reading, cooking, playing board games, and traveling and also teaches fitness classes in her spare time.

Parenting 101: How did you learn to be parent?

Parenting is not easy but the payoff can be huge. We hold a “Parenting Workshop” where we share some simple yet powerful tips with our parents. Here are a few of them:

- 1. Boredom is a good word. Stop trying so hard to keep your children from being bored. Boredom is GOOD for them. Only through boredom can they develop the critical success skills of resourcefulness and independence. Let them “just sit” in a car. Let them “just sit” at a restaurant. Let them “just sit” in a doctor’s office. Let them “just sit” at karate/sports. Let them figure out what to do. I read a very good article recently—kids today are not entitled, they are really just impatient!
- 2. Role Shift. This one is huge. If you just do one, do this one! Make sure you shift roles from caregiver/teacher to manager/coach to consultant/mentor as your child ages. Many parents stay in the caregiver/teacher mode. This will develop weak, dependent kids who will struggle with the slightest challenge, failure or stress. They will also not be able to take any risks. They will be perfectionists and fear failure. At what ages should you make the shifts? Use this—the number one motivator of normal kids before about seventh grade is “pleasing their parents.” After seventh grade it shifts to “pleasing their peers.”
- 3. Do not over-protect. They used to be called Helicopter Parents. Now the term is Lawnmower or Bulldozer Parents. Boredom, fear, hardship, failure, problems and stress are good for your child. Kids need to skin their knees and eat dirt. This is how they get stronger and more courageous. You want your child to live a good life NOT an easy life. The key? See #2 above—just make sure to shift your roles!

- 4. Make them do things they do not want to do. Here is the secret—the only way to develop the ability to work hard is to make them do things they do not want to do! I often get a parent who asks “Sensei, should I make my child do something they do not want to do?” My answer is “YES, and as often as you can!” This is what develops discipline. Just remember discipline is simply the ability to do things you do not want to do. When they say they do not want to do something, try not to pass up that learning opportunity.

- 5. Make them wait. The two best indicators of future success of a child is their ability to delay gratification and use resourcefulness. Just notice every time you give your child something quickly and easily. For instance, when they interrupt you for something or they want something. The most powerful words you can learn to use are “Oh, can you wait just a second?” Then about a minute or two later say “Thank you for waiting. Okay, now what was it you wanted?”

- 6. Punishing a child into good behavior does not work. It may work in the short run. But here is what almost always happens. I get a parent of a teen saying in frustration “I have taken everything away!” Just remember the #1 motivator of children before 7th grade is pleasing their parents. Use this by “catching them doing something right.” Positive reinforcement takes more work and patience but the payoff is huge.

I hope you can join us for the Parenting Workshop at Lakes Elementary at 9:15 AM on January 15!

Yours for stronger kids,
Sensei
