Superintendent's Corner

Chuck Hughes, Superintendent  @hartlandschools

Exercise Your Right to Vote on November 8, 2022

Thanksgiving is right around the corner. This is the time of year to be thankful for all that we have. Too often, we forget that living in the United States has advantages over living in other places around the world. While we have challenges, they are nothing that our ability to collaborate and problem-solve cannot overcome. Thank you for all that you do to support our students and staff in the effort to provide the best education possible.

It is that time of year when we need to be preparing for possible bad weather and the possibility of a "snow day." Please take time to plan for what you and your family will do in the event of a cancellation. The district will always attempt to make decisions in time for you to put your plans in motion; however, sometimes this does not always work out. The process for determining a cancellation is as follows:

1. The district keeps an eye on the weather; If severe weather is predicted, the superintendent and transportation team will evaluate potential conditions.
2. The superintendent will work with the transportation team to determine specific road conditions in the district.
3. The superintendent will collaborate with Livingston County Superintendents and make decisions based on the road conditions.
4. The superintendent will notify designated individuals in the event of a weather closure.
5. Families can check the district website, phone message, text message, email message, WHMI, Twitter (fastest way if you follow HartlandSchools) and Facebook for closure information.

When the roads are in poor shape, please remember to leave early and drive slowly. Help each other reach destinations safely.

The 2022-23 rankings are out for Hartland Schools. This year, every school in Hartland Schools was rated with an A or A-. If you are interested in learning more about these rankings, you can look at them at <https://www.niche.com/k12/search/best-school-districts/s/michigan/>.

Hartland Schools earned an "A" for each of the following categories: Overall Grade, Academics, Teachers, Administration, and Food. We earned an A- in the categories of Clubs/Activities and College Prep, and an A+ for Sports programs. Keeping us from jumping to the top of the charts is a C- in Diversity, which is not a surprise given the demographics within the community. These rankings put HCS in the top 2% for Athletics and in the top 10% (once again) for Best School Districts in the State of Michigan.

When combining this independent organization's ranking information with our student assessment score success from this past Spring, it is clear why HCS remains a "premier school of choice" district. This is great news for the district and community.

November 2022 Person of the Month: Kevin Blouin

I received my undergraduate degree in special education from Central Michigan University with minors in English and history. After graduating, I went back to CMU for a master's degree in educational technology. I enjoyed my time at CMU while enrolled in their teacher education program. Fire up Chips!

I feel very fortunate to have had my teaching career begin at Farms. In 2011, I was hired as a resource room teacher and I also started coaching the boys' freshman basketball team that same year. It is hard to believe that this was already eleven years ago. It has been a very rewarding eleven years as a teacher and as a coach. Throughout this decade, I have taught in the resource room providing intervention in the areas of literacy and math. I stayed in the basketball program and have been the varsity boys' basketball coach at Hartland High School for the past seven years.

My wife and I have been married for six wonderful years. We have two daughters (ages one and three) that keep us very busy. We love spending time together as a family. Outside of teaching and basketball I enjoy camping, hiking and traveling.

Watching students grow and learn has led to many unforgettable memories. It's difficult to choose just one moment. One of my favorite days of the school year is celebrating Ava's birthday. She's our therapy dog. Her birthday falls on Cinco de Mayo, so the students learn about the holiday at her birthday celebration. It is always fun watching the students get excited to learn about the holiday.

I am here because of the connections with students, families and the amazing staff here at Hartland Schools. The HCS teachers, coaches and leaders truly care about each other and their students. Hartland is family and I am very grateful to have the opportunity to work here.

Every day that I walk into Farms I see teachers and staff working together to do what is best for our students. Hartland Schools exemplifies reason, respect and responsibility. The Hartland team strives to provide the best educational experience for each student, and it is rewarding to be part of that experience.

Legacy students hard at work!

Legacy geometry students study the attributes of bridges to explain geometric concepts of parallel lines, perpendicular sides, angles and lines of symmetry. Their goal was to build the strongest possible bridge, and they had fun proving their theories with the maximum load test.

Attitudes of Gratitude

Legacy kicked off this year's volunteering in late September with a project that helped Meals on Wheels Livingston County. Students designed fall cards and magnets to add to the weekly food delivery in hopes of delivering uplifting messages with the all important meals.

A special thank you to our speaker, Patrice Langford Heath, who communicated the shared goal of Meals on Wheels and Legacy when she spoke to the students highlighting, "It is all of our hopes to bring a smile to their [senior citizens] wonderful faces."

Welcome to Hartland Preschool!

Fire Prevention Week kicked off with an educational visit to the Hartland Fire Department! Students experienced getting safely out of the smoke house, talked about evacuation plans and even watched their teachers go up in the lift bucket! The lessons continued in the classroom as students colored fire trucks, read books and wrote thank you notes to the fire department.

The Preschool classroom is a new experience for many families and we strive to make this transition smooth for students and parents. Over the next few months we will be sharing Preschool terminology and what phrases like “focus wall,” “sensory stations,” “centers” and more mean and look like in the classroom setting, along with the importance of the preschool experience.

Updates from the Childcare Center

Fall at the Childcare center is an exciting time as our students love to learn about Fire Safety with a visit from the Hartland Fire Department! We also practice fire drills with all of our classrooms and encourage students to practice at home. Our youngest babies enjoyed the fire drill "crib ride" to their safe location outside—see photo top left.

Inside the classroom teachers are enhancing the learning process with interactive technology, hands on activities and group play. Activities like coloring and glue sticks help develop students fine motor skills and letter of the day show and tell develops literacy skills. Our students of all ages strengthen their social skills while working together to create buildings and towers together.

We offer before and after care.

Please contact us if you are interested in setting up a tour or getting more information about our programs. We offer before and after care for children who attend the Round, Village, Creekside, Lakes Elementary and Farms Intermediate School. The children who attend the Lakes or Farms may enroll at the School Street center or take advantage of the school-age program at Lakes School. The School Street Center is open from 6 AM–6 PM. Lakes location is open from 6:30 AM–6 PM. Both programs offer gym activities, arts and crafts and outside play. When you are signed up for the Before and After School Care, you also have the option of attending on the "No School" days or snow days! Our center is almost always open!

Our program is expanding, which means we are hiring! If you are interested in applying, email childcarecenter@hartlandschools.us or call 810.626.2780.

ANNOUNCING: THE 2022 VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR

Congrats to DARIN LORUSS!

Darin Loruss started volunteering over 12 years ago with archery when his own kids were part of the program. Working with his children and their teammates provided him an opportunity to experience the sport with them. He loves having the chance to watch students grow from 4th grade all the way through to 12th grade, "You get a front row seat to all those moments as they reach the different goals they have achieved," Darin explains.

As the Elementary coach for the Hartland Archery team, you won't find a more compassionate leader among our youth. Coach Darin goes above and beyond with the archery team getting to know each child on the team. He emphasizes their strengths and teaches them how to improve in the sport. He has such a great way of motivating and inspiring the team to do their best, as well as challenging the team to reach goals.

A heartfelt "thank you" from our whole community. You are the heart of Hartland!

What Single Parents Should Know about Estate Planning

It is no secret that being a single parent is challenging. In addition to the day-to-day struggles of raising children on your own, you may also have concerns about what the future might hold for your kids if anything were to happen to you.

While estate planning for single parents is similar to estate planning for two-parent families, there are certain factors that require an added amount of attention when only one parent is involved. If you are a single parent, here are some important things you should consider about your estate plan.

Christopher J. Berry, Esq., CFP, CELA

Make Sure Your Documents are Updated - If you have not reviewed your will or your other estate planning documents in the last few years, you should do so as soon as possible so that your estate plan reflects your current situation. Ensure that you are satisfied with the beneficiary designations on your insurance policies and any other accounts so that it's not up to the probate court to decide what your children should receive if you were to pass.

Designate a Suitable Guardian - If there is not another parent in the picture who is available to take custody of your kids in the event that you become incapacitated or lose your life, make sure that your estate plan designates a guardian for your children. This should be somebody who is both willing and able to care for them. If your guardian requires financial assistance to raise your children, be sure to set aside funds from your estate for that purpose.

Acquire Adequate Insurance - Because your family depends solely on your income, you should ensure that you have mechanisms in place to preserve your children's financial security. Life insurance can augment your estate if you pass.

Clarify Your Healthcare Wishes - Without the input of a spouse, it is especially important that your estate plan outlines your preferences about life-sustaining medical procedures if you are unable to make decisions for yourself at any point. It is also recommended that you designate medical and financial powers of attorney so that trusted individuals can make decisions on your behalf in such circumstances.

Consider Establishing a Trust for Your Children - Regardless of their age, a trust can be a particularly effective way of providing for your children. The assets in a trust are managed by individual or corporate trustees, and the funds are distributed to your kids at a certain time or under certain circumstances that you specify in advance. Trusts can be particularly helpful if you have minor children, as your assets may otherwise come under the control of the child's other parent or a court-appointed administrator.

Speak to Chris Berry an Experienced Trust Attorney - If you are a single parent or have recently become one, it is important that you review and revise your estate plan as soon as possible. Working with an experienced estate planning attorney will allow you to do this in a manner that serves your best interests and those of your children so that their future can be secure.

Chris & Ryan are here to help you with every aspect of this process. If you have questions or you'd like to schedule a consultation, simply call our office at 844-885-4200 and mention this article to book an initial meeting.

Join us every Wednesday at 1:00pm where we answer your questions in an informal setting.

Friends of Cromaine

Most of the folks reading this article will admit that we have lots to be thankful for. Living in this beautiful area where we have access to a wonderful senior center, a special music hall and of course our GREAT library! We all look forward to Thanksgiving Day—a time for us to express our GRATITUDE.

This year to benefit the library, the “Friends” will sponsor our annual pie sale. This sale features an array of homemade pies just in time for Thanksgiving. Take the pressure off baking dessert! Plan to purchase a wonderful pie, November 23rd, 2022 at our library. Pies will be available from 9:30 AM until all the pies are gone.

If you would like to help the “Friends” by baking a pie for their sale, please notify the library at 810-632-6295 and ask to talk to someone at the circulation desk.

Have a wonderful Thanksgiving, and enjoy your pie!

Committed to Public Education

In these challenging times for public education, I will confront our tough issues and work hard to put students first so they not only succeed but thrive.

- I will be involved, build relationships within the community and always be available to parents.
- I will build on my strong relationships with the business community to further support our kids.
- I will ensure our schools remain flexible and responsive to the needs our kids in the community.
- I will combat misinformation through open lines of communication and transparency.
- I will ensure that we continue to work towards a bully-free environment in all our schools.
- I will demand we continue to teach the core standards, with an emphasis on higher achievement.

My Message

When I started this journey I really had one true purpose in mind and that was to have a positive impact either during the election process, meeting people along the way or by being elected. I would also like to share that I have self-funded my entire campaign and this was absolutely intentional. I have refused countless personal donations and financial support from the HEA or the MEA. Unlike my competition, I refused all donation offers of political money. My intentions and motivations to run are simply driven by my own principals and values. The school board is a non-partisan role and I would never exchange political financial support for a national political agenda like my competition.

Why share this info? It is important for people to see that I am willing to invest my own resources and energy back into the school district that has given so much to my child.

On Nov. 8th I would like to ask for your vote!
