Dear HCS Education Community:

Special Education Informational Panel: Adrian Dean, Director of Special Education, and I are working with The Arc Livingston to provide a special education panel for Board of Education members, staff, and parents to engage in a question and answer session. This would be a great opportunity for you to attend and learn. We will host this event on May 16, 2023 from 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the Board of Education room. The panel will be made up of experts in special education regulations guided by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. Guests will be provided 3 x 5 index cards to create questions and I will be the moderator. The reason for providing this opportunity is because parents in the community have expressed concerns about how the district works with students who happen to have a disability and their behaviors. They have shared with me that they feel the need to educate themselves so that they can best advocate for their children with district personnel and the Board of Education, if necessary. Please join us to seek to understand the legal requirements which must be adhered to when addressing the needs of our students.

Hartland Middle School Student Shines: Memphis Rickard is to be congratulated for her Top Ten statewide successes in the America & Me Essay Contest. Her HERO essay placed 5th among thousands of 8th grade essays. She will be awarded with a plaque, medallion and $1,000 cash on May 17, 2023 in Lansing. Congratulations Memphis! HCS is proud of your accomplishment.

Main Stadium Layout: This is what the Main Stadium will look like in the fall after summer construction.

This slide demonstrates that businesses are willing to train and provide an environment of growth for those eager to learn. I would assume that in the skilled trades, those willing to learn, work hard, and show up to work have opportunity to be successful.

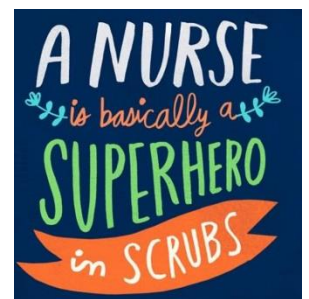

For a candidate to be successful in your company, do you require a certificate or degree?

At the recently held Youth Employment Fair, employees noted that students attending did not have resumes, were not prepared to ask questions of the employer or their business, and were not “dressed for success.” One thing we may be able to do as teachers is to ensure that every student creates a resume. We may also be able to spend some time requiring students to research businesses of their choice so that they have experience researching a prospective employer and the business they are applying for a position with. This would include creating questions to ask at an interview. These are suggestions I am passing on to students, staff, and parents as they were noted by employers as some things to consider.

Salvation Army Summer Lunch Bunch: The Salvation Army has released their Summer Lunch Bunch schedule. Please see the last two pages of this Weekly Update for more information.

School Nurse Appreciation Week: Thank you Ms. Gontarski, District Nurse, and Ms. Rocca, Certified Medical Assistant, for all you do for children in our Hartland family.

Respectfully,

Chuck Hughes
